TERRIBLE EXPLOSION

New York Building Blown to Pieces and Scores Killed or Injured.

NUMBER OF DEAD NOT KNOWN

New York, Oct. 29.—One of the most destructive explosions in the history of this city occurred a little after noon today in the building occupied by Tarrant & Co., wholesale druggists, at Greenwich and Warren streets.

The force of the explosion wrecked adjoining buildings, and the Irving bank across the street. The station of the Ninth Avenue Elevated Railroad company at Warren street was badly damaged and the road was blocked so that it will be impossible to resume traffic for some hours. The police report that a number of people lost their lives in the explosion, but up to 2:30 o'clock no dead body had been recovered from the ruined buildings, and it was impossible at that time to make anything like an accurate estimate of the number of lives lost. A great many were injured and were taken to the nearest hospitals. The building was on fire about five minutes before the first explosion occurred, and there were a number of firemen near it when the walls blew out, and it is feared that some of these were killed. The reports as to the occupants of the building, including about 125 working girls, are conflicting, but it is believed that the greater number of them escaped.

A report that Chief Cruger and fifteen men of the fire department were lost could neither be confirmed nor denied up to 2:30 o'clock. The property destroyed included nearly an entire block.

At 3 o'clock the fire was still burning but at that time it was believed to be under control.

It will never be known how many persons were injured. At the hospital all formality was done away with. Many persons had their injuries cared for and left without giving their names.

None but the less serious cases at the hospital have as yet been heard from. Those unconscious and dying were taken to wards and there cared for. No returns have yet been made to the hospital office from any of these wards.

For a block around the hospital there was a crowd in wild confusion. Both men and women were hysterical and it was very difficult to get information from many of them.

At 1 o'clock it was said that there were fully 150 persons in the building at the time of the first explosion, and few if any of them had time to escape. One young man who gave his name as Harry Ross said that he was standing on the corner when the explosion occurred. He was blown about ten feet. When he picked himself up he said he saw bodies flying through the air and landing in the flames. Three fire horses were so cut by flying glass that they will probably have to be shot. One fire engine was almost completely demolished by the falling walls.

It was said that 100 of the employes of the building were girls. They were on different floors when the fire broke out and the explosions occurred. It is hard to see how these girls could have escaped. In a restaurant next door to the drug store there were about 200 people eating their luncheon. Of these many were injured and it is reported that a score or more of them lost their lives.

Up to 12:45 p. m. eleven injured persons had been taken to the New York hospital. The police reserves from Old Slip, Church street, Oak street and Elizabeth street stations were called out.

The first explosion occurred at 12:12 p. m. It took the roof off the building. It was followed a minute and a half later by two or three sharper explosions that sent columns of flame and smoke high into the air.

The explosions sent debris flying through the air and into the street, where dozens of persons were injured.

All the ambulances from hospitals south of Fifty-ninth street have been called to the scene.

A lithographing place close to Tarrant's place caught fire and the flames spread to the Irving bank and to two buildings across the street.

The Warren street station of the Ninth avenue elevated road, directly in front of the drug establishment, was completely demolished and a number of persons who were standing upon it waiting for a train were blown to the street and received serious injury. Several women escaped from the station, however, by walking along the park platform at the edge of the track.

Several buildings at the rear of the drug store were blown down. The flames spread with wonderful rapidity, until the two blocks from Chambers to Warrenand from Washington to Greenwich streets were soon on fire.

John M. Elliott. of Brooklyn, was sitting on the roof of the six-story building at 66 West Broadway, a block and a half away from the explosion. He says the force of the first explosion was directly upwards for a matter of thirty feet, when the column of debris spread and fell downward. It took the roof off the building and he could hear the cries and screams of injured people. Three minutes later the third explosion, which, he said, was the worst of all, came. It shook the building where he was and debris fell all about him.

Policeman Galvin was in the immediate vicinity of the fire when the first of the series of explosions occurred. He said that a number of firemen were blown to death on the Warren street side of the building. He said that he rescued one of them, but that no living being could have rescued the others.

Policeman Galvan said that in his belief no less than 200 persons will be found to have lost their lives. This was on account of the suddenness of the explosions, which rendered it impossible for anybody who was in the building at the time to escape.

The force of the explosion was heard and felt clear down to Wall street and heavy plate glass windows were smashed and people thrown to the street a distance of four blocks away.

The employes of the Irving National bank, whose building stands directly across the street from Tarrant's place, were busily engaged at their desks at the time of the explosion. The first of the explosions came and not a clerk or official of the bank but who was thrown to the floor by the force of the concussion.

Thinking that the building was about to fall, several of the officials ran for the cash and had it taken out of the building and to a place of safety.

The clerks and other employes then made their way to the sidewalk and ran for places of safety.

Every available physician and ambulance surgeon who could be reached was called into service and the various stores which were not damaged by the explosions were turned into temporary hospitals for the care of the wounded.

It was only an instant after the first of the explosions occurred when the elevated structure caught fire. Fortunately there was no train in the immediate vicinity at the moment. The structure was in a blaze for a distance of half a block in less time than it takes to tell it.

Superintendent Skitt, of the Manhattan railway company, hearing of the trouble, hurried to the scene in person and with a gang of employes directed them in an effort to save as much of the structure as possible. The damage was so great to the roadway that traffic cannot be resumed for some time to come.

John Wiegand, who keeps a store at 48 Park place, three blocks from the scene of the explosions and fire, said that his windows were not only blown in, but that he was lifted clear from the ground by the force of the concussion.

The crowds which gathered about the scene were so great that the police were for a time powerless to keep them in order. Several lines were established, but the people appeared to be so beside themselves that they broke through and swamped the police. All the available reserves from neighboring station houses were called out, and even then the crowds appared for a time to get the better of them. Reserves were then ordered from half a dozen or more stations.

The streets for several blocks were strewn with broken glass and other debris and blood was spattered in every direction, showing that there must have been many persons in the vicinity at the time who were injured by falling glass.

The building as it fell came out and the elevated station was completely demolished and hidden from view by the debris. Much of the elevated structure was carried away.

Joseph Beck, an employe of Tarrant & Co., was seen after the explosion. His head was swathed in bandages and his right arm hung limp. He said that there were about two hundred girls in the building. Many of them escaped on the fire escapes. There were at least seventy-five, he said, that could not possibly have gotten away. The girls were all eating their lunch at the time the fire started, he said. He said that Tarrant & Co. carried a large stock. There was also a large quantity of alcohol and other explosive liquids stored in the building.

The building was also used as a storage warehouse by R. W. Phair & Co., who manufacture a patent medicine, as well as W. J. Breittenbach & Co., also manufacturers of medicines.

J. Donnison, the cashier of the Irving bank, was bruised and cut. H. C. T. Mecklin, of East Orange, and S. Combs, of Brooklyn, were also injured.

At 12:50 p. m. two explosions occurred in the building occupied by J. H. Mohlman & Co., grocers, in Greenwich street.

At 1:30 if was not possible to tell if any of the firemen were missing. There was a report that Assistant Chief Cruger and fifteen men of No. 10 truck were missing. The firemen were so busy and the confusion such that nothing certain could be learned.

A girl employed near the Tarrant building declared that the girls ate their lunches on one of the upper floors. She said she knew they could not have escaped.

Rev. Martin Luther, of the Wilson Memorial chapel, who was within a block of the scene of the accident, when the explosion occurred, had a narrow escape. He was on his way from the Franklin street ferry to attend the noon meeting at the St. John street Methodist church. He was in a very excited state of excitement as the result of his trying experience and was suffering from a wound in the head as the result of trying to hold a horse which had been knocked down by a truck. He was kicked in the head.

T. M. Coughlin, employed by the firm of W. O. Sexton & Co., said he saw two men and a woman on the top floor of the Tarrant building just after the fire broke out. They were frantically appealing for aid. They were at the window when the building collapsed and fell back into the ruins. There is no doubt of their fate.

At 3 o'clock rumors concerning the loss of life were many and various, but none of them could be verified. At that time it was reported that Lena Spritt, one of Tarrant's employes, was killed in the street by falling brick.

E. Fank, who is a bookkeeper, for M. J. Brittenbach & Co., who were in the Tarrant building, said that Thomas F. Main, president of Tarrant & Co., and secretary of the New York College of Pharmacy, and Mr. Allen, a member of the firm, were in the building, but escaped with slight injuries He says that the majority of Tarrant & Co.'s employes also managed to get away.

Edaward Bradley and his wife, employed by J. Caroll, printer, 49 Murray street, were on their way to lunch when the explosion occurrred They were in the door of the building. His wife was a few feet back of him. He heard her shriek for help and loked around, but the place where she had been was covered with debris. He is certain she was killed. They had two small children.

Thirty-four injured persons have been attended at the Hudson street hospital.

Joseph Aken, a waiter in the Home Made hotsl, 284 Greenwich stret badly burned and cut about the face, arms, hands and entire body; condition critical.

Mrs. Bishop and two daughters, wife and children of the proprietor of the Home Made hotel, are missing. It is believed they were killed.

Milton's original Commonplace Book has just been acquired by the British Museum authorities from Sir Frederick Graham of Netherby, Cumberland.

AGAIN AT WORK

BRYAN AND ROOSEVELT ARE ON THE WING.

ARE CLOSING THE CAMPAIGN

BRYAN TO SPEND TWO MORE DAYS IN NEW YORK.

WILL THEN COME OUT WEST

ROOSEVELT LAUDS M'KINLEY'S ADMINISTRATION.

Bainbridge, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Mr. Bryan began the first day of the last week of his campaign with a brief speech at this place. His train had been run from New York to Bainbridge via Albany during the night and brought up here at 7 o'clock. Notwithstanding the early hour, there was a throng of people at the railroad station and Mr. Bryan was compelled to respond to their calls. He had not yet arisen, but he dressed promptly and went to the rear platform of the Rambler, where he was soon joined by Mrs. Bryan, who will remain with him during the week. There were loud cheers both for Mr. Baryan and his wife and a general demand for a handshake, which was acceded to by both. The resident population had been reinforced by train loads of people from other places.

Mr. Bryan started the day with a schedule of thirty speeches before him, but he announced at the breakfast table that he was never in better condition for the campaign and said that he wanted to make all the speeches so as to break his own record, the highest number which he had hitherto made in one day being twenty-seven.

This point developed a new orator in the party in the person of James C. Dahlman, the Nebraska national committeeman. While the crowd was waiting at the depot for Mr. Bryan and clamoring for his appearance, Mr. Dahlman stepped out on the rear platform to explain the situation. Then he made a speech, telling the people that he had been with Mr. Bryan from the beginning of his campaign and that he was sure there would be a landslide in his favor. There are gains everywhere, he said, even in Canton, the president's own home, where Mr. Bryan received only 37 votes in 1896, there is now a democratic club of between 400 and 500 members and he concluded Canton is only a sample of what is going on.

Mr. Bryan was greeted by a fine crowd when he began to speak at Bainbridge. He said:

"I extended the time of my stay in New York in order to come up into this part of the state. I am glad to talk to farmers, for it seems to me that if the people of this country who are working on the farm, who are making their living out of the soil, will examine public questions that very few farmers will be able to give a reason for voting the republican ticket. In this part of New York you have a great many republican farmers—in fact, the republicans have now admitted that the cities are lost. They started out with the full dinner pail as an argument. They started out with the assertion that the country was prosperous and that therefore everybody would vote the republican ticket, and yet today the republicans are not mentioning the full dinner pail any more."

Proceeding, Mr. Bryan said that the republicans had abandoned the idea of carrying the cities and were now appealing to the farmers.

MR. BRYAN AT CHURCH

New York, Oct. 29.—William J. Bryan prepared for the last week of the campaign by resting in this city yesterday. He finished the week Saturday night considerably fagged and with a voice that demanded the first medical attention he has received since the campaign opened. After spending the night at the Hoffman house he attended Dr. Parkhurst's church, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan. In his regular announcements the noted pastor said that on next Sunday he would devote his morning sermon to political matters, intimating that his congregation would hear something of unusual interest, if not sensational. He followed the anouncement by a request for the prayers of his congregation that he might say that which was on the side of right. No allusion to the presence of Mr. Bryan was made. Gossipers are divided on Dr. Parkhurst's probable course, many believing that he will publically declare for Mr. Bryan, and others that after working up the public interest he will come out flat footed for McKinley.

THOUSANDS CHEER BRYAN.

Fifty thousand persons listened to Bryan's speeches and cheers from three times that many throats rang in his ears during his second progress through this city Saturday night. From a campaign excursion into Connecticut during the day in which he spoke to 8,000 men in New Haven, 25,000 at other places and was escorted back to this city by 150 Yale students' Bryan returned here In Madison Square Garden and park, which had resounded the night before with plaudits for McKinley and Roosevelt and groans for Bryan, the names of the republican candidates were hissed, while Bryan was cheered.

In his speech at Cooper Union Bryan declared that he still stood where he did four years ago on the financial question and that he had not attempted to conceal the fact. He would be unworthy any office, he said, if he surrendered his convictions.

HILL AND COCKRAN CHEERED.

While Mr. Bryan was making his way through cheering multitudes to the smaller meetings, David B. Hill and W. Bourke Cockran were holding the attention of the 15,000 persons who filled Madison Square Garden. Mrs. Bryan sat in a box conspicuous by flowers, directly opposite the platform from which her husband was to speak. Richard Croker occupied a box on her right. Anson Phelps Stokes, who presided was cut short by cries of "Hill!" before he had finished his introductory remarks. When the former senator was introduced there was a tossing of American flags all over the auditorium and a hearty burst of cheering.

Mr. Cockran was greted by tremendous aplause. His personal allusions aroused enthusiasm, but the obstruse nature of his main argument was rather over the heads of the crowd.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The state department today issued the following:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
A PROCLAMATION.

It has pleased Almighty God to bring our nation in safety and honor through another year. The works of religion and charity have everywhere been manifest. Our country through all its extent has been blessed with abundant harvests. Labor and the great industries of the people have prospered beyond all precedent. Our commerce has spread over the world. Our power and influence in the cause of freedom and enlightenment have extended over distant seas and lands. The lives of our official representatives and many of our people in China have been marvelously preserved. We have been generally exempt from pestilence and other great calamities, and even the tragic visitation which overwhelmed the city of Galveston made evident the sentiments of sympathy and Christian charity by virtue of which we are one united people.

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 29th of November, next, to be observed by all the people of the United States at home or abroad as a day of thanksgiving and praise, to Him who holds the nations in the hollow of His hand. I recommend that they gather in their several places of worship and devoutly give, Him thanks for the prosperity wherewith He has endowed us, for seed time and harvest, for the valor, devotion and humanity of our armies and navies, and for all His benefits to us as individuals and as a nation, and that they humbly pray for the continuance of His divine favor, for concord and amity with other nations, and for righteousness and peace in all our ways.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-fifth.

By the President: William McKinley.
John Hay, Secretary of State.

FIVE THOUSAND IDLE

OTHER PLACES WORK RESUMED

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 29.—Over 5,000 mine employes in the Lackawanna valley refused to return to work this morning because the companies for which they had mined coal failed to comply with the terms of the Scranton miners' convention.

The companies affected are the Ontario and Western Railroad company's ten mines, employing 4,000 men; the Forest Mining company, at Archbald, employing 800 men, who have been on strike since last January; the Green Ridge Coal company, employing 400, and the Clark Tunnel Coal company, employing 100.

At all the other mines there was a complete resumption, even at those of Jermyn & Co., in Old Forge, where it was believed yesterday the men would not go back until they were assured that the grievances because of which they struck last March will be adjusted.

The Ontario and Western company's employes will hold a mass meeting at Peckville this afternoon, at which they will insist upon the company putting up a supplemental notice conforming with the notice posted by the Lackawanna, the Delaware and Hudson and the Pennsylvania companies. They will insist upon the positive announcement that powder will be sold to miners at $1.50 a keg and that the wage increase per car will be two and one-half cents. They will give the company reasonable time in which to post the notices and the leaders say if this is not done the men will seek work in other mines where there is reported to be a scarcity of help. Several thousands of men who struck have either gone to the western soft coal fields or returned to their homes in Europe. This naturally diminishes the supply of competent help, as the mines all want to work at their fullest capacity in order to replenish the exhausted stocks of coal. For this reason it is believed that the union can tie up mines that show a disposition not to comply with their demands. The labor leaders say they will insist upon the enforcement of the mine laws, which provide that miners must be qualified workmen and have certificates to that effects This would prevent the bringing of emigrants and miners from other states.

THOUSANDS WENT TO WORK.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 29.—When the colliery whistles blew this morning 15,000 men and boys between Trevorton, this place and Mount Carmel reported for work. The only collieries idle are Henry Clay, Excelsior and Corbin. They will be in operation in a few days.

NOT ALL AT WORK.

Hazelton, Pa., Oct. 29.—Operations were resumed this morning at a majority of the collieries in the Hazelton district and they will be continued in full blast for the next two months. The strike is still on at the mines of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, located at Audenried, Honeybrook and Green Mountain. One of the officials of the company said this morning that the company had informed the men that it would abolish the sliding scale and agree to pay the 10 per cent increase until April 1, and they did not know why they refused to report. The mine workers claim that they want a written guarantee in this respect.

The Oneida and Derringer collieries of Coxe Bros. & Co. are also idle because of some misunderstanding on account of the notices posted by the company. All hands will probably be at work tomorrow. The only other colliery that did not resume is the one at Milnesville, where no demands have been granted at all. Before the strike began this company threatened to abandon this mine and it seems that the threat will be carried out.

About 100 strikers found themselves out of work at the Laflimer colliery of C. Pardee & Co. Twenty-five of these men, the firm claims, got their settlement in full when they quit and were no longer considered employes, so their places were filled by others this morning. The other seventy-five were sent home because of the abandoning of the Buck Mountain vein by the firm, who say that operation of this part of the workings will be unprofitable on account of the 10 per cent increase.

The fifty men employed at Tyler & McTurk's Stockton washery refused to work because, they allege, they were offered only a 5 per cent increase in wages, instead of 10, which they expected.

A. Pardee & Co. having filled the places of six "Lokie" runners, the miners refused to go back to work at Cranberry until their runners were reinstated, and in consequence the colliery is idle. General Superintendent Pardee received a committee of the men and has the matter of reinstatement under consideration.

HIS ARM CRUSHD TO A PULP

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT TO AN ASPHALT WORKMAN.

Joseph Allison Caught in Machinery of a Steam Roller on Third Street This Morning.

Joseph Allison, of Chicago, 26 years of age and unmarried, lost his right arm as the result of a frightful accident on West Third street shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. Allison was chief roller-man for the Bermudez Asphalt Paving company, which is nearing the completion of its work on that street.

The unfortunate man was operating the immense five-ton steam roller used for rolling the asphalt covering of the street, and at the left side of the machine is an immense cog gearing by which the motive power is transmitted from the engine to the roler. Close to this earing is a spray valve connected with the injector, and Allison reached down to open this valve. As he did so his sleeve caught in the cogs and Allison's right forearm was drawn quickly between the ponderous wheels, crushing the arm to a pulp from just above the wrist nearly to the elbow

The hand hung by a mere shred when the machine was finally stopped Physicians and the ambulance were summoned by telephone, and Allison was hurried to St Joseph hospital where Dr. Porter and Dr. C. E. Stultz found it necessary to amputate the arm above the elbow. Foreman Charles Luke says that Allison was one of the best men in the employ of the company, with which he has been connected several years. Allison came to the city about two weeks ago in response to a request from the foreman and is considered an expert in his line.

MR. MORSS WAS HERE.

Hon. S. E. Morss, of the Indianapolis Sentinel, and former consul general to Paris, was in the city Sunday for a brief visit with relatives and old friends. Mr. Morss expresses confidence in democratic victory, both state and national, this year, and says conditions are brightening daily. He left for his home early this morning.

LEAVE FOR NEW YORK.

Mrs. John McQuiston, Allen T. McQuiston and Benjamin McQuiston leave this evening for New York and will attend the funeral services of Captain Charles McQuiston, which will be held at Arlington. The remains will arrive from the Philippines within a few days. Mrs. McQiston, widow of the dead captain, is a neice of Col. Charles S. Denby, former United States minister to China, and Col. Denby will join the funeral party in New York.

WELCOME TROOPS

LONDON GREETS RETURNING VOLUNTEERS.

STUPENDOUS DEMONSTRATION IN LONDON STREETS.

THE POPULACE KHAKI MAD

FORMER OUTBURSTS OF FEELING ECLIPSED.

London, Oct. 29.—The City Imperial volunteers, who arrived at Southampton from South Africa Saturday on the British transport Aurania, reached here by train this morning, marched through London, along streets packed by thousands and received a tumultous greeting. Such a demonstration was probably never before evoked for such a small body of volunteers.

The postponement of London's welcome until today diminished the number of spectators, but the enthusiasm could scarcely have been more general or genuine. Early in the day Queen Victoria sent a message to the returning troops, welcoming them and inquiring as to their health. The prince of Wales came to town and viewed the procession from Marlborough house. The other royal personages watching the little band of men in khaki uniforms were Princess Louise, the duchess of Argyle and Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar, who, with many other distinguished people, had taken up positions of vantage early in the morning. The clubs in Piccadilly presented an unusual spectacle. Hundreds of women were at the windows, these sacred precincts having thrown open their doors in honor of the great occasion. All along the line of march there were festoons of flags and other such devices, presenting a brilliant spectacle, though, as a matter of fact, the decorations had been up since Saturday and had been drenched with Sunday's rains, which had not improved the colors.

In addition to the City Imperial volunteers themselves, there were in the procession the bands of twelve volunteer regiments and 24,000 regulars and volunteers lined the route.

Among the most interesting features of the display was the presence in the procession of the invalided City Imperial volunteers in carriages flying the Red Cross flag and the assemblage at a conspicuous point in the street of the few remaining survivors of the Balaklava charge.

The locomotives which drew the City Imperial volunteer trains from Southampton were respectively named "Victoria," "Roberts," "Powerful" and "The Maine." To the last the invalids were intrusted.

The exuberant throngs proved unmanageable and the police and soldiers were quite unable to stem the ugly rushes. The crush of the populace became so terrible at the Marble arch that the people broke through the cordon, and when the field was again cleared forty persons requiring the aid of ambulance-surgeons were left lying on the ground, several of them suffering from serious injuries.

In Narrow Fleet street the crowds broke down all the barriers and sight-seers, soldiers, police and City Imperial volunteers were mixed up in a confused mass, from which the volunteers had to be extricated in single file.

A fractious cavalry horse stampeded the crowd at Ludgate circus and fifty persons who were injured had to be attended to by the ambulance corps.

BRUTAL CHICAGO MURDER.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—With a bullet in his brain, his throat cut from ear to ear, his face hacked almost beyond recognition, and one eye gouged out, Anton Lizl, a Bohemian florist, brother to the burgomaster of Prague, Bohemia, was found dead yesterday in a ditch near Forty-third court and the north branch of the Chicago river. Twelve hours later Joseph Dolinski, a Polish florist, was arrested for the crime. When arrested Dolinski's clothes were covered with blood. Mary Lizl, widow of the murdered man, is also detained by the police. Lizl had been married but a few weeks. Dolinski had formerly been a suitor for her hand.

TURNED TABLES ON DE WET

THE BOER LEADER REPORTED DEFEATED.

Lost a Number of Men and Some Guns—British Suffer a Serious Defeat and Loss.

London, Oct. 29.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts, dated Pretoria, October 28:

"Knox successfully engaged De Wet October 27. During the Boer retreat Knox caught De Wet in the Rensburg drift. The Boers lost considerably and left two guns and three wagons in Knox's hands. Another ammunition wagon was blown up by a shell. The British casualties were nil."

Referring to the Jacobsdal affair, Lord Roberts says it was due to the treachery of the inhabitants, who admitted the Boers to their houses at night. They opened fire at daybreak. Fourteen men were killed and thirteen were wounded, mostly Cape Highlanders. Troops dispatched from the Modder river drove off the Boers. The houses of the treacherous inhabitants were destroyed. Commandant Bosman was killed.

Lord Roberts calls attention to the "increasing inclination of the better class of Boers to co-operate with the British to secure peace," since they find that guerilla warfare is "visited with heavy punishment."

BOERS CAPTURE TWO CANNON.

London, Oct. 29.—According to a dispatch from Cape Town to the Daily Mail a force of Boers attacked and surrounded a patrol of Cape police with a convoy near Hoopstad, Orange River colony, on last Wednesday and a sharp fight ensued.

"The police," says the correspondent, "were compelled to abandon two maxims. Ultimately reinforced by the yeomanry, they succeeded in getting away with the convoy, but they lost seven killed, eleven wounded, and fifteen captured. The colonials were outnumbered ten to one and the engagement lasted for two hours.

"The Boers have 15,000 men in the field, nearly half of whom are in Orange River colony. These are divided into commandos of about 300 each, but are capable of combination for large operations."

MEXICO'S CENSUS IS TAKEN.

Monterey, Mex., Oct. 29.—The federal census was taken throughout Mexico yesterday. Only the population was enumerated. Preparations for the work had been in progress for some time, and it is believed that the enumeration taken is the most complete ever made in this republic.

The census that was taken ten years ago was far from complete, for the reason that many ignorant natives feared that their names were wanted by the authorities for the purpose of forcing them into the army, and when the enumerators appeared they hid themselves.

This fear was largely overcome in the present effort through the wide distribution of public circulars among the people, announcing the object of the proposed enumeration. The priests of every parish in Mexico also explained to their parishioners the objects of the census. It is believed the figures will show a wonderful growth in population throughout Mexico during the last decade.

WHITE MEN THEIR LEADERS

FILIPINOS FOLLOW FORMER ANTAGONISTS.

Deserters From the American Army Are Assisting the Insurgents in the Philippines.

Manila, Oct. 29.—While scouting near Looc a detachment of the Twentieth and Twenty-eighth regiments, under Captain Beigler, were attacked by 400 insurgents armed with rifles, under the command of a white man, whose nationality is not known to the Americans. The insurgents for the most part were intrenched.

After a heroic fight Captain Beigler drove off the enemy, killing more than seventy-five. The fight lasted for two hours. Captain Beigler and three privates were slightly wounded and two of the Americans were killed.

An engagement took place October 24 between detachments of the Third cavalry and the Thirty-third volunteer infantry, numbering sixty, and a force of insurgents, including 400 riflemen and 1,000 bolomen. The fighting was desperate. Finally under pressure of overwhelming numbers the Americans were compelled to retire on Narvican.

FIVE AMERICANS KILLED.

Lieut. George L. Febiger and four privates were killed, nine were wounded and four are missing. A number of teamsters were captured by the insurgents, but were subsequently released. The enemy's loss is estimated at 150.

A civilian launch towing a barge loaded with merchandise near Arayat was attacked by a force of 150 insurgents under David Fagin, a deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry. The American troops on hearing the firing turned out in force before the boat could be looted and captured.

Fagin, who holds the rank of general among the insurgents, has sworn special enmity toward his former company. Of the twenty men captured a month ago seven have returned. One was killed in a fight, his body being horribly mutilated.

Fagin sends messages to his former comrades threatening them with violence if they become his prisoners. It was Fagin's men who captured Lieut. Frederick W. Alstaetter, who is still a prisoner.

EXPEDITION FULL OF PERIL.

General Hall's expedition, with a force of nearly 800 men, through the mountains to Binangonan, province of Infanta, in pursuit of the insurgent general Cailles, although it discovered no trace of the enemy, encountered great hardships on the march. Twenty Chinese porters died and forty men were sent into the hospital.

After stationing a garrison of 250 men in Binangonan and visiting Polillo island, off the coast of Infanta province, General Hall and the rest of his force embarked there on the transport Garronse.

Reports from General Young's district show a daily increase of insurgents there owing to the fact that recruits are going thither from the towns.

While a detail of the Thirty-third volunteer infantry was returning from Bangued on rafts it was fired upon by insurgents. Sergeant Berdstaller being killed and two privates wounded.

The Philippine commission has decided to compile the revised Philippines customs tariff from its own investigations, assisted by the report of the army board. The result will be forwarded to the United States for publication and discussion among those interested in foreign commerce.

When the details appear to be satisfactory and the draft has been approved by the secretary of war the commission will promulgate it here as a law. The measure has taken on a new and international commercial interest and the course of the commission is heartily commended here.

Archbishop Chapelle, who recently left Manila, accompanied by several friars, for the northern districts of Luzon, under conditions that aroused the suspicions of the Filipinos here that he intended to establish the friars in parishes there, was warmly welcomed on his arrival at Dagupan.

As two years have elapsed since an opportunity for baptism had been presented, more than 2,500 persons have been baptized.

In view of the protest of the parish against the appointment of a friar as parish priest Mgr. Chapelle did not attempt to make it.

BELIEVES IN TRUSTS.

Friday night at the Roosevelt dinner in the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, United States Senator N. B. Scott, of West Virginia, chief of the speakers' bureau of the republican national committee and Mark Hanna's right hand man in the management of the campaign in the east, won the distinction of the Burchard of the 1900 McKinley campaign. In the course of a speech to a few political managers, trust magnates and bankers, he said he believed in trusts and went so far as to specifically name the Standard Oil company as a trust that was doing much good. He said:

"Right here I want to say I believe in trusts. They are a good thing. The Standard Oil company put in its pipe line to all the small towns where oil is produced, and if it was not for the Standard Oil company this prosperity that we have would'nt be there today."

This remark seemed to cause some consternation. Senator Scott immediately recognized that he made a faux-pas, and, standing up in his chair and pointing to the newspaper reporter over in the corner, said:

"If that newspaper man puts that down I will make trouble for him."

At the same Mr. Bliss, Mr. Odell, General Greene and several others requested that the remark of Senator Scott be not made public. After this the conversation lagged a little.

THE INTER-STATE AVERAGES

FORT WAYNE IS AWAY UP IN BATTING AND FIELDING.

Hollingsworth Leads Second Basemen and Hemphill Centerfielders—Other Averages.

The Pittsburg Leader, of which C. B. Power is sporting editor, printed the official averages of the Inter-State league last Saturday. The averages are by far the most complete ever given out by the Inter-State and stand as a monument of Mr. Power's administration of affairs. Fort Wayne is second in fielding and third in batting and ranks away up in almost every department of the game. Schills, who played only a few games, leads the league in batting, but Beck is the real leader, with an average of .360. He is also credited with 120 extra bases. He leads in two-base hits, having 71 to his credit. Bradley has the most home runs, 18. Bradley always went to first oftenest on balls, 115 times, Charley Babb coming second. Babb was hit oftener by a pitched ball than any other Inter-State player. Hollingsworth is the real leader of the second basemen, Eagan only having a better average and he played in few games. Hemphill leads the center fielders, he having made only one error in twenty-eight games. Kleinow and Krueger are the only Fort Wayne batters who hit over .300. Kleinow's average being .329 and Krueger's .317. Miller has an average of .293 and Babb .285. Brashear's batting average is .255. Belden ranks away up as a left fielder and Bergen caught the most games, 120, and made 23 errors. Jones leads the league in percentage of games won. Fricken ranks second of the Fort Wayne twirlers, Swaim third and Harper last, each of them having pitched in more victories than defeats. Dayton leads the league in fielding and Toledo in batting. Krueger had more chances than any other shortstop and had more hits than any batter except Beck, who had 207 to his credit.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

LICHTLE.

Mrs. Mary Ann Lichtle, wife of Peter Lichtle, residing at 134 Eliza street, died shortly after 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon from paralysis of the brain. Mrs. Lichtle was stricken suddenly while engaged in her household duties Sunday morning, and previous to that time was in her usual good health.

Mrs. Lichtle was arranging to attend high mass at St. Mary's church and during the morning began preparing for the Sunday dinner. Later neighbors were attracted by the odor of burning meat, and hurrying into the Lichtle home found Mrs. Lichtle unconscious upon the floor where she had fallen when attacked. Medical skill was of no avail, and death ensued some hours later. Surviving are the husband and three children, Paul Lichtle, Miss Anna Lichtle and Mrs. Louis Stouder, all of this city.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 8:30 from the residence and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church.

HUHN.

Fred Huhn, 70 years of age, died at 6 o'clock Sunday morning at his home, 236 Smith street, from lung trouble. The disease resulted from a severe cold, contracted while attending the funeral of his brother. Mr. Huhn was a native of Lemsning, Saxony, Germany, and has been a resident of Fort Wayne about twenty years. Until about one year ago he was employed at the Pennsylvania round house. Surviving are the widow and thre children.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2 o'clock from Bethel Evangelican church.

The patient came to the hospital Friday night, and on Saturday morning his wife came and was with him at the time of his death. Mr. Donohue was 30 years of age and by occupation a glass worker. He was preparing to remove to Montpelier when stricken by illness.

The remains were removed this afternoon to the undertaking rooms of Schone & Veith and prepared for burial. The interment will be at Anderson.

PURE BLOOD

Necessary to Life. Vinol Makes it.

POOR BLOOD CAUSES ERUPTIONS AND WEAKNESS.

Vinol Makes Pure, Rich, Red Blood.

BECAUSE WE KNOWN THIS WE GUARANTEE ITS ACTION.

Impoverished blood is a sure sign of internal disorders. We see every day too many people whose faces plainly show that there is something radically wrong.

We want all of our fellow-citizens to know of our splendid blood purifier and blood maker.

We refer to Vinol.

Vinol, as we have before stated, is a purely scientific preparation.

Vinol owes its virtue to the fact that it contains in a highly concentraced state the active curative principles, taken from the livers of live cods—the same elements that formerly were found in cod-liver oil, and which made it famous.

Vinol does not contain the grease or fat that characterized cod-liver oil and made it in many cases worthless.

Vinol acts upon every one of the great vital organs, and by invigorating and giving them strength, enables them to properly perform their functions.

Vinol's effect on the stomach is marvelous. It tones up this, the greatest of the organs of the body, and enables it to obtain from the food which is taken into it the necessary elements to create flesh and muscle tissue, bone structure and pure, rich, red blood.

We are in receipt of a letter from a Savation Army woman which reads as follows:

"I took Vinol after a bad attack of grippe, and so much good did it do me that I persuaded my sister to take it. She was all tired out. Had no appetite and her blood was very poor. It did her as much good as it did me."—Betsy Habbershaw, 718 River St., Fall River, Mass.

Won't you please come in and see us? We are always glad to extol the merits of Vinol.

We will give you back your money if you don't find Vinol will do all we claim it will. Could any one do more for you?

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on.

Mr. H. T. Shobe, 2704 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face, which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has ever returned."

Bad blood makes bad complexions.

SSS purifies and invigorates the old and makes new, rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part towards carrying off the impurities from the body.

If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

SAW THE POHLER AIR SYSTEM

CITY OFFICIALS VISIT THE STATE CAPITAL.

Were Favorably Impressed and Will Recommend Adoption by Water Works Department.

If the board of water works trustees accept the recommendation of the city council the Pohler compressed air system will be adopted by the water works department of the city of Fort Wayne. Yesterday the special committee of councilmen appointed by Mayor Scherer to investigate the system went to Indianapolis and were shown the working of the system in the water works department of the Capital City. They were so well pleased that the sentiment is unanimous that by using compressed air there will never again be a scarcity of water in Fort Wayne unless the water supply itself fails. With 400 horse-power the Indianapolis water works system furnishes in one day as high as 23,000,000 gallons of water to its consumers and the average consumption is nearly 15,000,000. The committee from Fort Wayne was composed of Councilmen Hosey, Scheid, Schwartz, Zurbuch and Lennart. William Tegtmeyer, water works trustee, and John Oliphant, representing the Ingersoll-Sargent Air Compressing company, Cleveland, and Mr. Young, of the ShawKendall Construction company, of Toledo, accompanied the council committee.

ENTHUSIASTIC CONVERTS.

There Are Thousands of Them Who Believe as This Woman Does.

Mrs. Ira Knowlton, of Butte, Mont., is a most enthusiastic convert to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a cure for obstinate stomach trouble. She says: "I had poor digestion nearly all my life. It now seems to me that for years I never knew what it was to be hungry, to have a good, natural appetite.

"It was troubled with gas in stomach, causing pressure on the heart, with palpitation and short breath. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach—sometimes I had cramps in the stomach which almost resembled spasms.

"Doctors told me I had catarrh of the stomach, but their medicines would not reach it and I would still be a sufferer had I not, in sheer desperation, decided to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I knew they were an advertised remedy and I didn't believe anything I read about them, as I had no confidence in advertised remedies, but my sister living in Pittsburg wrote me last spring telling me how Stuart's Tablets had cured her and her little daughters of indigestion and loss of flesh and appetite and I hesitated no longer.

"I bought a fifty-cent box at my drug store and took two of the large tablets after each meal and found them delightful to take, being as pleasant to the taste as caramel candy. Whenever during the day or night I felt any pain or uneasiness in the stomach or about the heart, I took one of the small tablets and in three weeks it seemed to me as if I had never known what stomach trouble was.

"I keep Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the house and every member of our family uses them occasionally after a hearty meal or when any of us have a pain or ache in the digestive organs."

Mr. E. H. Davis, of Hampton, Va., says: "I doctored five years for dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets than in five years of the doctors' treatment."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, bloating after meals, sympathetic heart trouble.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is not a cheap cathartic, but an active digestive remedy containing the pepsin and diastase which every weak stomach lacks and they cure stomach troubles because they digest the food eaten and give the weak, abused, over-worked stomach a chance to rest and recuperate.

FINN'S FINE STANDS.

Manager Finn, of the Youngstown base ball club, was fined during the base ball season in the circuit court after he had paid a fine in the lower court, the state contending that there had been collusion between the base ball management and the police. Saturday the circuit court at Youngstown approved the finding of the lower court and practically by its decision holds that the officers had an agreement with the base ball management.

WILL DISCUSS MORMONISM.

Mrs. Sarah J. Elliot, a deaconess of the Episcopal church, will deliver an address this evening in the First Presbyterian church. Her subject will be "Mormonism." Mrs. Elliot has spent many years in Utah as a missionary among the Mormons, and she is thoroughly conversant with the conditions that exist among the people of this sect. Mrs. Elliot took a prominent part in the anti-Roberts agitation, and her visit here is for the purpose of renewing the anti-Mormon sentiment preparatory to the proposed amendment of the constitution which comes before congress at the next session. Mrs. Elliot comes here under the auspices of the Presbyterian board of home missions. Mrs. Elliot is perhaps the best known woman lobbyist in the United States.

The rooms were beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion and the host and hostess were assisted in receiving by their daughter, Miss Clara Hull, Mrs. William Reitze, Mrs. A. L. Randall and Miss Alice Crane. Mrs. Joseph Rossell and Mrs. George Belott presided in the dining room, assisted by four young ladies, Miss Clara Porter, Miss Jessie Reitze, Miss Marjorie Olds and Miss Alice Foster. Miss Myrtle Wilding and Miss Mana Beebe served punch. The supper was served by Lacklin. More than three hundred invitations were issued for the event and during the entire evening the rooms were filled with guests who came to offer congratulations and good wishes.

The embers of the war in South Africa are stil red hot. Fights are reported simultaneously from three points in the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony. Ex-President Stein has taken the field and is reported as having established his "capital" at Fouriesburg. Lord Roberts may be still a good way from the end of his mission as a conqueror.

The world having been satisfied that the sociable and musical mosquito is the transportation system used by the malaria germ in his travels among and into mankind, is now advised on high medical authority, that the same vehicle is the coach and four in which yellow jack drives to murder his victims. If this theory be correct, it would seem difficult to place limitations upon the potentialities which may accompany the mosquito on his rounds; and the duty of the state to exterminate his tribe would seem to be mandatory.

Our volatile French friends are preparing actively to "twist the Lion's tail" by giving an official and enthusiastic reception to ex-President Kruger on the occasion of his visit to France. President Loubet and M. Delcasse may not think that the scheme is altogether a safe one, in view of the rather shaky relations between the republic and England, but they seem to be taking to it with outward pleasure, since to do otherwise would bring them into trouble with all the Anglophobe elements of their action. The British will be duly insulted and enraged, but it is doubtful their resentment will take any visible form. Nevertheless, there is a possibility that official honors paid to the queen's enemy may accentuate existing bad feelings and perhaps hasten the day when it is believed in some quarters that John Bull and Jean Crapaud are destined to come to blows.

Ex-Secretary Charles S. Fairchild holds that trusts are the necessary result of steam and electricity He may be right, because it is possible that both have qualities and powers yet undiscovered But we should like to be informed if steam and electricity, naturally and of necessity, make secret rebate deals with transportation systems and thus ruin non-trust manufacturers and if it is true that steam and electricity of their own vigor monopolize the entire control and production of a prime national necessity like anthracite coal, and concentrate such things in the hands of half a dozen trust magnates.

The Springfield Republican sees nothing alarming in the rising sentiment that republican newspapers and orators term "Bryanism." On the contrary that newspaper believes "Bryanism" is the essence of democracy. It says: "The claim that the democratic party was never more truly democratic than it is under the leadership of Mr. Bryan is gradually being admitted by informed students of our history. The truth is being recognized that the movement called 'Bryanism' is nothing but another of those tremendous ground-swells of democratic impulse and aspiration which periodically agitate the politics of this republic. It is being admitted that the legitimate successor of Jefferson and Jackson is William J. Bryan. The popular instinct has recognized this fact for some time, and it is of decided interest that historical scholars are beginning to admit the truth, and that their conclusions are being welcomed in the pages of the most conservative magazines of the day."

WHERE ROOSEVELT SAID IT.

The following extract from Mr. Theodore Roosevelt's article on "The Three Vice Presidential Candidates," in the Review of Reviews for September, 1896, page 295, settles the disputed question whether he ever said it, and makes his denial unwise:

"The men who object to what they style 'government by injunction' are, as regards the essential principles of government, in hearty sympathy with their remote skin-clad ancestors who lived in caves, fought one another with stone-headed axes and ate the mammoth and woolly rhinoceros. They are interesting as representing a geological survival, but they are dangerous whenever there is the least chance of their making the principles of this ages-buried past living factors in our present life. They are not in sympathy with men of good minds and sound civic morality."

WAS IT AN EMPTY BOAST.

[Washington Post, Ind.]

Why is it that the republican organs and orators will persist in disparaging their party's achievements? Why are they discrediting their national platform? Why, in contemptuous disregard of the grand anthem of prosperity with which that platform opens and its declaration that the "stability of our currency on a gold basis has been secured," are the organs and spellbinders predicting financial disaster and industrial ruin in case their party is defeated? Conceding that Mr. Bryan is a wild enthusiast on the coinage issue—that his devotion to 16 to 1 is incurable—it still remains a fact that "the stability of our currency on a gold basis has been secured;" that nothing but unfriendly legislation can shake it. Bryan's election would not even threaten such legislation. A democratic house would not be a free silver house. The senate would be a gold standard body. And any tampering with the currency would give the republicans an easy and overwhelming victory in congressional elections of 1902.

TROOPS FIGHT CARLISTS.

Madrid, Oct. 29.—A conflict between twenty-four armed Carlists and a detachment of gendarmes occurred yesterday near Badalona. The chief of the Carlists was killed and another man was wounded. Three Remington rifles were captured. The band retreated in the direction of Moncada, pursued by cavalry and infantry.

MILLIONS WANTED

GENERAL WILSON REPORTS ON COAST DEFENSES.

PURPOSE BIG EXPENDITURE

CHIEF ENGINEER REPORTS

FIFTY PER CENT OF COAST DEFENSES COMPLETE.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The important subject of coast defense is the first considered in the annual report of J. M. Wilson, chief of engineers. Generally speaking he reports most gratifying progress in the execution of the various projects during the last fiscal year. Because the report included the fiscal year only, the subject of the destruction of the Galveston defenses by the September hurricane is left over for treatment in a subsequent report

Some of the points of interest treated by General Wilson are as follows. The torpedo system has been under careful study by expert officers in the light of the experience gained during the Spanish-American war, but so far only minor changes have been proposed.

Up to the present the thirty localities have been selected for defense on the coast. No formal projects were added to the list during the past year but preliminary projects have been framed for the defense of the entrance to Chespeake Bay, and the defense of several other localities is under consideration. Attention has been given to the subject of coast defenses for Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands, and in view of the importance of these island possession General Wilson says active measures for their defense should be deferred no longer. A detailed project for the defense of the harbor of San Juan de Porto Rico, involves an estimated expenditure of $1,800,000. Preliminary projects for Pearl habor and Honolulu are also already available and ready for execution as soon as congress shall appropriate the funds. The great changes in the character of guns and armor and ships since the Endicott board framed the coast defense plans now under execution have involved corresponding changes in these plans. The tendency toward reduction in the caliber of guns together with the adoption of a successful type of disappearing gun carriage for twelve-inch guns has rendered unnecessary the armor for forts originally planned, and now in use in Europe There has been a reduction also in the number of mortars and a considerable strenthening of the batteries of secondary guns owing to the development of the rapid-fire type, almost unknown at the time the Endicott board made its plans These changes have resulted in marked economies, without sacrifice of the strength of the defenses, and they will be continued

The war with Spain had the effect of hastening the work began in earnest, the chief of engineers is able to report that 50 per cent of the defense work is complete Twenty-five of the principal harbors of the United States now have a sufficient number of heavy guns and mortars in place to offer an effective defense against naval attack. Existing projects contemplate the mounting of about 480 guns for seacoast defense, of 850 rapid fire guns and about 900 mortars, at an approximate total cost of $50,000,000 Up to the present time provision has been made for the emplacement of 309 heeavy guns, 368 rapid-fire guns and 372 mortars. The armament placed during the war in temporary works will be held in reserve for an emergency.

Attention is invited to the urgent need for an increase of the artillery arm of the service, which is now too small to take care of the costly and complex defense works.

During the past year negotiations have been in progress for the acquisition of fortification sites in Boston harbor (two sites), Narragansett bay (two sites), New York harbor (extension of Fort Wadsworth), Port Royal, S. C., San Francisco and Rich passage, Puget sound, but the proceedings are slow owing to legal difficulties. The most important sites are those at Boston and one in New York harbor rendered necessary by the construction of the proposed deep-water entrance.

The report gives a concise statement of the work accomplished at each defensive point during the past year.

The total of the estimates submitted on account of fortifications for the next year is $5,715,000, and of this amount $4,710,000 is on account of the construction of gun and mortar batteries and position finders.

General Wilson makes an earnest plea for the reinforcement of the engineer corps, which has been overtaxed by the additional work required on account of the addition of new territory.

The second section of the report treats of the river and harbor improvements of the country, for which estimates for the fiscal year ending 1902, aggregating $20,000,000, are submitted, to which are added $200,000 for surveys and contingencies, $3,890,000 for the Mississippi river commission, $1,040,000 under the Missouri river commission, $15,000 under the California debris commission, and $72,800 to prevent deposits in New York harbor. The expenditures for the year ending 1900 were $18,485,298, which does not include $125,000 paid the Eads estate for maintaining the jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi and $61,000 for surveys and examinations for a canal from the great lakes to the Atlantic. The report is a review of all the work done during the fiscal year and refers especially to a number of important subjects, including the Chicago drainage canal, Pearl harbor, Hawaii, and the proposed memorial bridge connecting Washington and Arlington. Of the Chicago drainage project the report says that all the interests affected cannot be satisfied and the subject must be referred to congress for ultimate settlement. As to the lowering of the water level of the lakes, General Wilson says that investigations made under the direction of the deep waterway commission and by others may furnish data upon which further consideration of the question may be based.

The estimates under the Mississippi river commission are $3,890,000, and include the following:

Harbor at New Orleans, $300,000; Red and Atachafalaya rivers, $50,000; Natchez harbor and Vidalia harbor, $150,000; Memphis harbor, $100,000; Missouri river commission, from Sioux City to the mouth of the Missouri, $1,000,000; Osage river, Maine, $25,000.

Under the head of miscellaneous one of the items is for the sum of $2,661,000 for the English system and $881,337 for the American system of filtration of the water supply of the national capital. Another item is $380,000 for improvements in the Yellowstone National park.

REPORTER ANSWERS PASTOR

SAYS NEWSPAPERS SHOULD PRINT ALL GOOD NEWS.

Their Duty, He Contends, is to Enable All Men to Know Themselves.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29.—George F. Grassie, a reporter on the staff of one of the Milwaukee daily newspapers, occupied the pulpit of Plymouth Congregational church. He discussed the ethical side of the newspaper business, or "The Philosophy of the Press."

Mr. Grassie's sermon was in reply to one delivered by the pastor of the church, Rev. Judson Tisworth, on "What a Preacher Thinks of a Newspaper."

The preacher thought the newspaper was influenced by too much commercial spirit and thought the time was soon coming when the editor would be guided by a more altruistic spirit, and then the influence of his paper, already great, would be greater.

Mr. Grassie started out by quoting several passages from the Bible, coupling them with the words "know thyself." In learning to know himself, man must learn to know everything which in any way influences himself, the speaker contended, and it was within the province of the newspaper to teach a man to know himself by printing the news and everything that was true news.

In brief, Mr. Grassie said:

"It is the duty of the newspaper to help the average citizen to know himself, to interest him in what is going on about him, to give him just enough goodness and just enough badness, just enough religion and just enough atheism, just enough spirituality and just enough pugilism to keep him interested, and to thus make him know himself, and, incidentally, to sell the paper."

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thayer are visiting in Larwill.

PROF. MAX MUELLER DEAD

ILLUSTRIOUS SCIENTIST IS DONE WITH LIFE.

Great German Scholar of Oxford, Famous as a Philologist, Passes Away at a Ripe Age.

London, Oct. 29.—Friedrich Max Muller, corpus professor of comparative philology at Oxford university, is dead. He succumbed to an illness which manifested itself first last December.

He died Sunday at 12:35 p. m. His disease was an affection of the liver.

Until ten days ago he was able to continue writing his autobiography, dictating to his son. He was perfectly conscious until Sunday morning.

Frequently during his illness dispatches of inquiry were received from Emperor William.

No man in the scientific world was better known probably than Prof. Max Muller, the famous German critic, historian and philosopher. In spite of his German name Max Muller lived so long in England that one is apt to look upon him as an Englishman. Born at Dessau, Germany, in 1823, he was educated at Leipsic and Berlin. When only twenty-one he published a translation of Sanscrit fables. Following his return from Paris in 1845 he settled in Oxford, where he spent most of his life. The famous English university soon discovered the profound value of the great German and his work and in 1868 a new professorship of comparative philology was founded and Max Muller was placed in its chair as the first professor. In 1875 he resigned the professorship, intending to return to Germany, but the university induced him to remain and intrusted him with the congenial task of editing a series of translations of the "Sacred Books of the East." Upward of forty volumes of this series have been published and remain a lasting monument to Professor Muller's scholarship, research and industry. In 1878 he delivered at Westminster a course of lectures on "The Origin and Growth of Religion as Illustrated by the Religions of India." But probably his most popular works are "Essays on the Science of Language" and "Chips From a German Workshop." Professor Muller has also collated "The Ring-Veda" manuscripts, which appeared for the first time in 1849. His father was Wilhelm Muller, the poet. For many years Professor Muller has been known as the greatest linguist of the age.

KERN -- BEVERIDGE

TWO POLTICAL MEETINGS IN CITY TONIGHT.

KERN SPEAKS TO DEMOCRATS

SENATOR BEVERIDGE WILL BE AT THE RINK.

CLUB PARADE LAST SATURDAY

TWO HANNA SPEECHES THIS WEEK—STEVENSON.

Each of the two great parties will hold political meetings in Fort Wayne this evening. Hon. John W. Kern, democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, will speak at Saengerbund hall and Senator Beveridge will speak to republicans at Princess rink. The Hendricks, Jefferson and probably the ward clubs will meet on the market square at 7:30 o'clock and march to the Wayne hotel and act as escort for Mr. Kern. The Tippecanoes will meet at club headquarters and act as escort to Senator Beveridge. Charles McCulloch will preside and introduce Mr. Beveridge at the rink and Hon. T. E. Ellison will probably preside and introduce Mr. Kern at Saengerbund hall.

TO HEAR STEVENSON.

The democratic leaders are pushing arrangements for the Stevenson day demonstration next Friday evening. William Meyer has charge of the parades and he will announce his aides probably tomorrow. All of the local clubs will turn out in the evening and it is expected that there will be visitors from all over the Twelfth district. The farmers' parade will be in the afternoon Hon Joe Bailey, of Texas, will be here with Mr. Stevenson and it is expected that the demonstration will be the big democratic affair of the campaign in Fort Wayne.

THE LOVE FEAST.

The love feast of democratic clubs Saturday evening was a big success. The clubs assembled on Barr street at 7:30, and at 7:45 the line moved with William Meyer in command. He was assisted by Dr. W. W. Barnett and Allen Hamilton. The parade was led by the Hendricks club with the Olympia band furnishing the music. The feature of the parade was the big turnout of railway men, there being no less than 200 in line as the club marched down Calhoun street. There was the Jefferson Marching club, one of the finest uniformed clubs in Indiana, the Eighth Ward Marching club in their blouses, the Fifth and Sixth ward club and the Tenth ward club. The Ninth ward drum corp was also in the parade. When straightened out the line was eleven squares in length and there were between 600 and 700 persons marching and all of them were members of Fort Wayne clubs. The clubs disbanded at Saengerbund hall and about two-thirds of them listened to addresses by Hon. W. G. Colerick, S. B. Fleming and Judge Allen Zollars. H. C. Underwood, president of the Jefferson club, presided. When Judge Colerick arose to address the clubs he was greeted with great applause and several times during his twenty minutes talk the hall rang with cheers. Mr. Colerick called attention to the fact that all over the world nations were enjoying the same prosperity as the United States and he did not believe Mr. McKinley was responsible for it. But while the republicans were talking of prosperity to the nation they forget to tell that the workingman had received no increase in wages and the farmer's net profit on his products was less than it was four years ago.

He asserted that those persons who were now supporting Mr. McKinley actively in this campaign had profited by special favors from the administration. Charles McCulloch, Mr. Colerick said, had in the Hamilton bank $100,000 of government money on which he did not pay a cent of in-per cent. Mr. J. F. W. Meyer, he said, was partner in a big drug house which furnished the medicine used by the government to care for the sick and dying soldiers in the Philippines. And in ending his comments on local advocates of Mr. McKinley Mr. Colerick said: "And there is Perry Randall. If he enjoys the same prosperity in the next four years that he has in the last, God pity him." The crowd cheered loudly at these statements about local supporters of Mr. McKinley. The battle of ballots this year, Mr. Colerick contended, would determine whether the United States was to remain free and be governed under the constitution or continue to be controlled by the syndicates which were always asking and receiving special favors.

S. B. Fleming said that he had just returned from a conference with Parks M. Martin, state chairman, who informed him that Indiana was certain to cast its vote for Bryan. The clubs, Mr. Fleming said, had done good work, and if they would continue their efforts for ten days more victory was certain.

Judge Allen Zollars spoke last and devoted a large part of his address to a discussion of the tariff.

MARK HANNA NIGHT.

The republicans are making every effort to hold the big political demonstration of the campaign next Wednesday evening, when Mark

ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE.

Hanna speaks here. The republican managers are trying to eclipse the democratic parade of Cockran night and invitations have been sent to the leaders in every township and surrounding cities to send all the republicans possible to Fort Wayne on that evening. Employes of the Fort Wayne shops and factories have been solicited to turn out and papers have been circulated among them with requests that they sign an agreement that they will be in the parade. There may be an industrial division in the parade also. Mr. Hanna is advertised to arrive here at 7:35, but an effort is being made to bring him here sooner. The parade will be under the command of J. H. Haberly and Senator Hanna will view it from the balcony of the New Aveline hotel. It will move east on Wayne street to Monroe, north to Berry, west to Rockhill, north to Main, and east to the Princess rink, where the national chairman will speak. He will be accompanied by Hon. Perry S. Heath, Harry C. New, Indiana member of the national committee, and others. It is probable there will be several meetings held simultaneously and Senator Hanna will speak at all of them.

The Wabash railway will run a special train to Peru on the occasion of the big democratic barbecue next Thursday. The train will leave Fort Wayne at 11 a. m., the round trip fare having been fixed at $1.00. The Hendricks and Jefferson clubs will probably attend to the number of 200. The City band and Jefferson club drum corps will accompany the marching clubs.

Thursday evening will be "Bob Hanna Night" in Fort Wayne and the Princess rink will ring with the shouts of "Bob's" friends when he delivers his big speech of the campaign.

N. B. Travis, of Chicago, has been in the city several days doing personal work among the railroad men in the interest of McKinley. He represents the national committee, and this evening will go to Logansport on a similar mission.

WEDDING VOWS ARE TAKEN

WHILE GROOM IS BATTLING FOR HIS LIFE.

Harry Young and Miss Edith Schultz are Married at St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday.

Harry Young, prostrate upon his cot at St. Joseph's hospital, battling for his life against a fearful misfortune, and Miss Edith Schultz, standing at his bedside at noon Sunday, fulfilled the troth plighted months ago and took the vows which united them as husband and wife. Justice Harry F. France performed the marriage ceremony under unusual circumstances that lent more of tragedy than of joy to the scene.

The groom is the young man who lost both legs in falling beneath a Wabash train in this city Friday morning. The bride is a Huntington young lady and was betrothed to Young several months ago. He was returning from a call at her home when he met the terrible misfortune which has placed his life trembling in the balance. They have been lovers from childhood. Young came to Fort Wayne for employment and has been employed in the factory of the Withington company. They were to have been wedded this week, and the young man had already rented and furnished a cozy little home on Lillie street. When the terrible misfortune befel her lover Miss Schultz hurried to his side and at once declared if his life were spared she would marry Young, regardless of his unfortunate condition. This vow was fulfilled Sunday. Present at the ceremony were the parents of Mr. Young, his brothers and sisters and a number of friends of the bride. The patient is yet very weak, and the outcome of his accident is yet uncertain, though Dr. Porter stated this morning that he believed Young had a fighting chance for his life. The bride is stopping at the Rich hotel and is spending all the time permissible at her husband's bedside. Young was 21 years of age yesterday.

AGED MAN'S DEED

SHOOTS YOUTH DEAD IN BRAZIL SUNDAY.

CHARLES REYNOLDS KILLED

A SUNDAY TRAGEDY ENACTED AT TIPTON.

HAPPENINGS IN HOOSIERDOM

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 29.—The house of Madame Harmon, on West Jackson street, was the scene of a murder yesterday morning. Charles Reynolds, nineteen years of age, and four other young men visited the house, and after remaining there a short time started for home. They heard a stone strike the door of the house and stopped to await the outcome. The woman's husband, Samuel Harmon, appeared with a shotgun in his hands and fired at the boys, instantly killing Reynolds, several pellets passing through his heart. The news of the murder spread rapidly and threats of lynching the murderer were made, but the officers hurried Harmon to a cell in the county jail, where he will be well guarded. City Marshal Prince said that no mob violence was anticipated. Young Reynolds was a cousin of Marshal Prince's wife and was sober and industrious. Harmon has been charged with felonious homicide. He says he thought Reynolds and his companions were throwing stones at the house. The murderer is sixty-eight years old.

A SUNDAY TRAGEDY.

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 29.—Noblesville was shocked yesterday by a tragedy that may end the life of Edward Bradfield and seriously affect his wife.

Thomas Mills, a brother-in-law of Bradfield's, went to the latter's home early in the evening and called him out to the fence. When Bradfield appeared in the yard Mills entered the gate, and walking up to him, slashed him across the back of the neck with a huge knife. The blade of the knife had been sharpened especially for the purpose of slaying Bradfield.

The wound in the unfortunate man's neck is ten inches long and the knife touched within a sixteenth of an inch of the jugular vein.

After wielding the knife with such terrible effect Mills attempted to run away. Mrs. Bradfield, who heard her husband's cries for help, ran into the yard and attempted to hold his attempted slayer. Mills turned on her savagely and cut three long gashes in her arm. The loss of blood caused her to faint and her condition is serious. Bradfield is so badly wounded that his life is despaired of.

The cause of the assult cannot be ascertained. The men have not been friends for some time. Mills attempted to escape and did get away from the scene of the trouble, but was caught after a long chase and was incarcerated in the county jail upon the charge of murder. He will not discuss the affair.

HOUCK IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 29.—The assaulting and robbing of John Houck, an aged resident of Centerville, Saturday night, is still shrouded in mystery. Houck remains in a precarious condition, not having rallied from the severe blow struck him. John Jones, a local stock dealer, who was a former resident of Centerville, has been arrested in connection with the affair, but there is no charge against him. Houck was known to always have a large sum of money about him and it is thought his assailant secured from $400 to $700.

TWO HOUSES BLOWN UP.

Elwood, Ind., Oct. 29.—The homes of Fenton King and Mrs. Burns were wrecked yesterday morning by an explosion of dynamite, someone having placed a stick of the explosive near each house. The members of the families narrowly escaped death.

CLIMAX OF A FEUD.

Colfax, Ind., Oct. 29.—Charles Phillips was dangerously stabbed near the heart by Clint Harshman. Both are farmers, and the encounter grew out of a family feud of long standing.

FORGOT THE NAME.

Monon, Ind., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Francis Smith, who had come from a distance to visit a married daughter, was in a dilemma here the other day. After arriving she could not remember the name of her son-in-law. She knew he was a farmer, and that his first name was "Jim," and that was all. She visited the stores to ascertain where a man by the name of Jim traded. She perused the assessor's books, but the cognomen eluded her, and then, when she was in despair, and had given up the search, the name came to her like a flash. Her son-in-law's name is James Easterman, to whose place she was taken the next morning.

SUMMER HOME FOR GIRLS.

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 29.—A wealthy Chicago woman, who will not consent to the use of her name, has purchased a tract of land on Gill lake, north of here, where she will erect a summer home for the working girls of Chicago. It will accommodate 100 guests and will be used for no other purpose than an outing resort for the overworked factory and shop girls of the western metropolis. It is purely philanthropic and has an abundance of financial backing.

OLD MAN'S FATAL FALL.

Winamac, Ind., Oct. 29.—John W. Bennett, an old citizen of Winamac, was found dead in his home. The last seen of him alive was on Tuesday night, when a neighbor observed him moving around in his bedroom with a light. As his wife was absent at Tipton, the neighbors became concerned, and last evening a ladder was procured and an entrance effected through an up-stairs window. Bennett's dead body lay at the foot of the stairs, with his head in a pool of blood and his feet upward on the stair steps. Dr. J. J. Thomas, coroner, was called, and an examination of the body disclosed the fact that his neck had been broken. He had fallen down stairs, and it is thought the accident occurred Tuesday night.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 29—London was influenced by our weak closing on Saturday and prices for American securities abroad were lower. In the local market the international stocks opened at large fractional declines, notably Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Atchison and Pennsylvania. Some of the specialties sagged sharply including Manhattan, sugar and Federal steel.

A sudden break of four points in Tennessee Coal was without explanation but its decline increased the pressure in other quarters and many prominent stocks yielded over a point. In the railroad division Lackawanna lost 1¾ and Wisconsin Central preferred 1½, while a number of prominent railroads fell a point. Business was on a large scale, but no definite news developed to account for the lack of support to the market. Towards 11 o'clock the market became unsettled. The Pacifics were inclined to harden while the grangers, specialties and bituminous coal stocks sagged.

Northern, Southern and Missouri Pacific rallied from ⅜ to ⅞ causing slight recoveries in other railroad stocks, but meanwhile other stocks were moving downward, and their weakness eventually undermined the strength in the Pacifics. The selling pressure showed marked increase and prices fell lower than before. A number of the prominent specialties lost between 2 and 3 points Bonds were active and irregular

AGAIN AT WORK.

The audience went wild, however, when Mr. Cockran said:

"I opposed Mr. Bryan in this very spot four years ago, when I believed him to be wrong; I thank God for the opportunity to support him here and now, when I believe he is right."

MRS. BRYAN SHARES HONORS.

Mr. Bryan arrived at 10 o'clock. After ten minutes of frantic shouts for Bryan the audience turned its back upon him and saluted Mrs. Bryan with a demonstration as enthusiastic as that which had been given to her husband. She looked very much pleased, but a little embarrassed by the tribute.

Mr. Bryan spoke clearly and was heard distinctly. He took up in turn the principles enumerated by the Kansas City platform, devoting more or less time to each. He gave out a text from Proverbs — "Remove not the ancient landmarks which thy fathers have set"—and argued that the democratic party had become the conservative party, seeking to sustain the time-honored principles of the government, while the republicans had become the revolutionary.

Binghampton, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Governor Roosevelt started his second week of state campaigning this morning, the special train leaving this place at 10 o'clock. The governor is in excellent health, having enjoyed the quiet of yesterday and the relief from speaking. His throat was in good condition today, considering that he has made six hundred speeches since he started through the country. He has not lost flesh in his travel of 19,200 miles, but, in fact, has gained. The trip for the day was arranged to include a fewer number of speeches than for any day of the state tour, only three stops being scheduled, one at Cortland, where it is arranged the train should stop for an hour; one at Ithaca, where three hours are to be spent, and the final stop of the night at Elmira.

When Governor Roosevelt finishes his trip on Saturday next he will have made 650 speeches and have traveled over twenty thousand miles, a record equal to the combined record of all other candidates for national office in the past fifty years, exclusive of Mr. Bryan.

LAUDS ADMINISTRATION.

Cortland, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Governor Roosevelt made his first stop of the day after leaving Binghampton at this place at 11 o'clock. There was a great gathering of people to meet him and in addressing them the governor took for his topic the administration of President McKinley, discussing it with more minuteness than heretofore. He alluded to the increase in the value of farm products, the increase in the number of people employed in manufacturing establishments, the betterment of conditions of labor generally, the effects of the maintenance of the gold standard and the upholding of the flag at home and abroad. He paid some attention to Bryan's statement that he would hurt the trusts by taking off the tariff and asked his auditors if they considered that admitting goods manufactured abroad by cheap labor would in any way inure to the betterment of those in this country engaged in the production of the articles now made more valuable by a protective tariff.

HOW TO VOTE CORRECTLY

READ THIS COLUMN CAREFULLY

The device at the head of the Republican ticket is an eagle.
Other tickets on the ballot have different devices.
The Democratic ticket is in the first column, the Republican ticket is in the second column, and so on.
Below is a sample of the Democratic and Republican tickets, with the respective party devices, in the order in which they will appear on the official ballot.

SAMPLE BALLOT

To vote a Straight Ticket make a X within one circle and not elsewhere.
To vote a Straight Ticket make a X within one circle and not elsewhere.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET. REPUBLICAN TICKET.

DEM.	For Governor, JOHN W. KERN.	REP.	For Governor, WINFIELD T. DURBIN.
DEM.	For Lieutenant-Governor, JOHN C. LAWLER.	REP.	For Lieutenant-Governor, NEWTON W. GILBERT.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

FIRST. You must get your ballot and a blue pencil from the polling clerks in the election room. Remember that a blue pencil is now used instead of a stamp.

SECOND. If you want to vote a straight ticket make a cross, thus X, within the large circle at the head of the ticket containing the device of the party for whose candidates you wish to vote. If you do not wish to vote a straight ticket, you must not make a cross in the large circle containing the device of your party, but you must make a cross, thus X, on the small square to the left of the name of each candidate for whom you desire to vote, on whatever list of candidates it may be. If the large circle at the head of the ticket is marked, and the ballot is marked at any other place, it is void and cannot be counted, unless there be no candidate for some office in the list printed under such marked device, in which case you may indicate your choice for such office by making a cross, thus X, on the square to the left of the name of any candidate for such office on any other list. The cross must be placed within or on the circle or square or the ballot is void and cannot be counted.

THIRD. Do not mutilate your ballot, or mark it either by scratching a name off or writing one on, or in any other way, except by marking in the circle or on the squares as before mentioned. Otherwise the ballot will not be counted. You must not put any mark of any kind on your ballot except as before mentioned.

FOURTH. After marking your ballots, and before leaving the booths, fold them separately so that the face of each cannot be seen, and so the initial letters of the names of the polling clerks on the back thereof can be seen. Then hand your ballots to the inspector, the pencil to the polling clerk, and leave the room.

FIFTH. If you are physically unable to mark your ballot, or cannot read English, so inform the polling clerks, and make an affidavit to that effect, and tell them how you wish to vote, and they will mark your ballot for you. But neither you nor the clerks must permit any other person to hear or see how your ballot is marked. It is a penal offense to declare that you cannot read English or cannot mark your ballot, if, in fact, you can; and in no case shall the ballots be marked by the poll clerks if the voter can read the English language or is physically able to mark his ballot, and then not until the voter has made the affidavit.

SIXTH. If you should accidentally, or by mistake, deface, mutilate or spoil your ballot, return it to the poll clerks and get a new ballot.

SEVENTH. You must not accept a ballot from any person outside of the election room. Any ballot outside is fraudulent, and it is a penitentiary offense to have such a ballot in your possession whether you attempt to vote it or not.

EIGHTH. You must not attempt to hold any conversation in the election room except with members of the election board and poll clerks.

NINTH. Use only the blue pencil handed to you by the polling clerk in marking your ballot. If you mark with any other pencil your ballot is void and will not be counted.

TENTH. You must not put any mark of any kind on your ballot except as before mentioned.

ELEVENTH. Constitutional amendments to be voted on at the November, 1900 election are printed on a white ticket and the voter must indicate his preference upon these questions by marking the small square to the left of the words "For the amendment," or "Against the amendment." If the voter is in favor of the amendment he should mark in the small square to the left of the words "For the amendment." If opposed, he should mark in the small square to the left of the words "Against the amendment."

FATHER KEEPS HIS DAUGHTER

Board of Children's Guardians Made the Application—The Latest Court News.

Seibert Gable bitterly contested the attempt of the board of children's guardians to get legal custody of his little three-year-old daughter in the circuit court and Judge O'Rourke decided in his favor. The mother is dead and the child was in charge of the father, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, in the southern part of the city. The little child lived there with the father and some time ago the board of guardians took possession of the little one after filing an application for guardianship. The father claimed that the attempt to get possession of the child was made only that the board might give it to relatives of the dead mother who were desirous of adopting it. The relatives were in court and signified a willingness to adopt the little one, but the father fought for his child and as there was no evidence to show that he should not have it the judge decided that father and daughter should not be separated. A. H. Bitdinger appeared for the board of guardians and Wilmer Leonard represented Mr. Gable.

CONVICT BADLY INJURED.

A telegram from Jeffersonville states that Frank McGrady, a convict in the state reformatory, was probably fatally injured Saturday. He was at work in a shoe factory repairing some machinery when the machine was accidentally thrown into operation. McGrady was crushed about the shoulders and received a fracture of the skull. McGrady was sent to the reformatory from Fort Wayne for the theft of a pair of eyeglasses, after having been allowed his freedom under suspension of sentence for a previous offense.

WABASH ADDS NEW GANG TO ERECTING DEPARTMENT.

H. E. BENNETT THE FOREMAN

ENGINEER AND MRS. KELKER'S CHINA WEDDING.

WABASH BRAKEMAN KILLED

CLARK COLE CRUSHED BETWEEN ENGINE AND CAR.

General Foreman W. Paul, of the Wabash shops, put a new erecting gang at work this morning in that establishment. H. F. Bennett is the the foreman and he has under his charge eighteen machinists and helpers, the following being machinists who began work there this morning: E. J. Richards, E. C. Roberts, J. M. Allen and Oliver Roelle. Other members of the gang were taken from other gangs, some of the men being employed for a long while in the shops.

UNFORTUNATE CAR BUILDERS.

Saturday was an unlucky day for some of the car builders employed in the east car shops of the Pittsburg. E. W. Washburn and C. J. Krueger received injuries which will probably lay them up for several days. W. C. Muhlenbruck and F. Dobbenkan are disabled by sickness.

SHOPMEN HURT.

George Smith was struck on the left leg yesterday by an equalizer, which he was endeavoring to bend under one of the big steam hammers. He will be unable to work for several days at least. Henry Koopman, a boilermaker, dropped a heavy iron on his right foot, bruising the member badly, but luckily breaking none of the bones. Both men are employed in the Wabash shops.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.

Clark Cole lost his life at Roanoke Saturday afternoon. He was a Wabash brakeman and was caught between the corner of the engine tender and a car and his breast was crushed. Mr. Cole was a member of Conductor Woxson's crew, which was on train 72, eastbound. The conductor had instructions to pick up a car which was standing on a spur at that station. The engine left the train on the main track, backed into the passing siding and with a pole was about to push the car, which was upon a loading spur, out upon the tracks. Mr. Cole was handling the pole. One end of it slipped off the car and he was caught in the manner described and died instantly. The body was brought to this city and taken to Peltier's morgue, where it was prepared for burial and taken to Andrews, the late home of the deceased. Mr. Cole was an old employe on the road. For fourteen years he was a conductor, being reduced in rank last spring on account of an accident in which his train figured. The unfortunate man was about 45 years old, married and had two children. The widow and the children now reside in Andrews, which town was Mr. Cole's home all his life, except a brief period when he resided in this city. F. M. Cole, of Andrews, was the father of the deceased and Scott Cole, the Huntington postmaster, was a brother.

The funeral will take place at Andrews tomorrow and will be attended by a number of men from this city, including the crew of the train on which Mr. Cole was employed when he met with the accident which caused his death. The men composing the crew are Conductor Woxson, Brakemen Schroeder and Donahue, Engineer E. W. Burns, and Fireman T. A. Mulcahy.

FIGHTING FOR UNION PACIFIC.

That something radical and decisive soon will result from the long-drawn-out struggle between the so-called Gould and Vanderbilt interests to secure a sure and lasting control of the Union Pacific property, railroad officials and financiers are reasonably certain, says the Chicago Record. While the Vanderbilts at present direct the affairs of the Union Pacific, the Goulds are pushing them so vigorously and unrelentingly that the security of their control is not regarded as the essence of all that is strong and unwavering. The fight for the control of the western system is looked upon as the greatest struggle the railway arena ever has been the scene of, and the outcome of it is to have great effect upon one of two Chicago railroads, the Northwestern or the Illinois Central.

If the Vanderbilts maintain their present control the Union Pacific-Northwestern alliance will continue in effect, but if the Goulds come out on top the Northwestern will lose its present connection west of Omaha, and the Illinois Central will tie up with the Union Pacific in a traffic relationship. The directors of the Illinois Central are said to be considering the advisability of extending their line westward from Omaha to the Rocky mountains in case the Vanderbilts come out of the present fight as victors. That they desire a route to the Pacific coast is not questioned.

There is a difference of opinion among railroad officials as to where the sure and permanent control of the Union Pacific will eventually be found. Some officials do not believe that anything short of a miracle can wrest the control from the hands of the Vanderbilts, but there are others who are of the belief that the strategy and shrewdness of the descendants and followers of Jay Gould in time will triumph.

WANT RAMSEY TO STAY.

There is apprehension among the Wabash employes lest General Manager Joseph Ramsey is called to the Grand Trunk. If the new general manager of the latter road is appointed upon the recommendation of the retiring manager, C. M. Hays, it will probably be Mr. Ramsey. The Wabash has prospered under the management of Mr. Ramsey and he is a kind and considerate employer, hence the anxiety among the employes.

HONORED AN ENGINEER.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kelker entertained a number of friends at their pleasant home, 89 Baker street, Saturday evening, in celebration of the twentieth anniversary of their wedding day. The early part of the evening was devoted to congratulations from the guests, cards and dancing, followed at 12 o'clock by a most bounteous and delicious supper. Music for the occasion was furnished by Mr. Russ Winters and Mr. Rupert Leibman, and the applause each number received is evidence that their efforts in that way were appreciated by the guests. Each of the guests left with the host and hostess an appropriate memento, which will serve to recall to memory this, one of the most pleasant social events of the married life of Mr. and Mrs. Kelker. Among the donors and presents were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bowles, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Fry, of Kalamazoo, chamber set; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Calkins, Petoskey, jardiniere and pitcher; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Higgins, Grand Rapids, oat meal dishes; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ludden, Grand Rapids, crumb tray and brush; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hawkins, Logansport, celery dish; Mr. and Mrs. B. Pitman, Logansport, olive dish; Mr. and Mrs. L. Griffith, Detroit, Salad dish; Mrs. M. Robb, Ossian, comb tray and shaving mug; Mrs. M. R. Coffee, Decatur, salad dish; father and sisters, Mary and Julia, tea set; Mrs. Reiter and daughter, sugar bowl, creamer and vase; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McNearney, jr., cake dish; nieces, cake dish and celery dish; P. O'Neil, six fruit dishes; Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Kelker, pair of fancy pillows; Mr. and Mrs. A. Kelker, pair of fancy towels; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Kelker, jardiniere stand; Arthur, William, Edward and Orlo Kelker, rug; ladies' auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, beautiful china dinner set; Mr. and Mrs. H. Hogan, salad dish; Mr. and Mrs. Cummings, jardiniere; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherry, beautiful china dish; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kratsch, cake dish; Mr. and Mrs. C. Adams, cake dish; Mrs. C. Murphy and family, fancy plate, and Miss A. Eagan, jardiniere. Mr. Kelker is one of the most popular engineers on the Pittsburg road.

Supt. J. B. McKim, of the Pennsylvania, held a staff meeting in his office this morning. The heads of all the departments attended the meeting.

John F. Lewis, Nickel Plate brakeman, has gone to Virginia to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, who was killed in the Philippines a few weeks ago.

Master Mechanic G. S. McKee, of the Wabash, is suffering from a severe attack of quincy and will probably be unable to leave his home for several days.

Fireman H. P. Bittner, who was on the gravel pit engine at Warsaw several weeks, returned to the city Saturday with the intention of resuming his run on the road.

Operator A. A. Gilson, of Continental, Ohio, was called here yesterday to work in the Nickel Plate offices. Several of the regular operators are sick, including Messrs. Norton and Applegate.

Patrolman Will Bates, of the Pennsylvania police force, found and returned to the owner, Mrs. S. G. Andrus, of Chicago, a valuable metal belt, which was lost on a Pittsburg train Saturday.

The Nickel Plate, which has been advancing some enginemen, has now commenced examinations in the ranks of the brakemen with the same object in view. Eight of them were called up for examination today.

Owen Owens, who was at a fishing resort in Michigan, was taken sick and had to return home sooner than he expected. He is still unable to report for work, but is rapidly improving. Mr. Owens is a Pittsburg conductor.

Engine No. 153, Engineer Joe Leeper at the throttle, hauling west bound Pennsylvania passenger train No. 15, caught and killed a horse between Elida and Auglaize this morning. The animal strayed upon the tracks.

General Manager J. J. Wood, of the Fort Wayne Electric company, returned from New York this morning. He says everything is running smoothly with the electric company, but there is nothing especially new to tell today.

Charles Green, Bert Olds, William Driftmeyer and Jacob Hilgeman, construction men, and Cornell Morganthaler, salesman, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, have arrived home and will not go out again until after the election.

E. C. Keefe, Pittsburg boilermaker, is again having trouble with the hand he had injured in the shop a couple weeks ago. He reported for work last week, but this morning the member is so lame that he had to take a lay off for repairs.

G. W. Parry went this morning to Waukeegan, Ill., where he will superintend the erection of a big gas plant, for which the Western Gas Construction company has the contract. Mr. Parry will probably be at Waukeegan several weeks.

Mrs. D. L. Mason is lying seriously ill at the family home, 410 South Clinton street. It is feared that the malady may be typhoid fever, though it has not developed well formed typhoid symptoms yet. Mrs. Mason is the wife of the well known Pittsburg fireman

H. C. Hambrock has decided that firing one of the big Pennsylvania freight engines is not the snap he thought it was when he applied for a position on the road a short time ago. He has, therefore, retired from the cab and hereafter will work in the freight house check room.

Claude Hall, a machinist employed in the Erie shops at Huntington, was in the city Saturday and Sunday. He is a brother-in-law of Harry I. Young, who had both legs cut off in the Wabash yards in this city Friday morning and came here to see that unfortunate young man.

Yesterday the Grand Rapids and Indiana company closed the most successful Rome City resort business in its history. The special train service was to be discontinued a month ago, but the people remonstrated and to please them the train was kept on, it making its last run yesterday.

The absentee lists at the Pittsburg shops are somewhat more lengthy today than they were for the preceding half dozen days. Some of the new names on the list are of those who are sick, but a majority of them are absent for unknown reasons, presumably on account of sickness. Among this number are Frank C Bardy, E. E. Szink, C. H. Heckman, F. C. Schultz, C. H. Grimm, Charles Yohey, Jacob Junk and C. H. Smith. Blacksmith Al Throckmorton is sick and W. E. Arrick, W. Buuck and E. Buuck are off by permission. It is rumored that the latter is to be married next Wednesday and that his absence from the shop is to prepare for that event.

Laborers engaged in making a tunnel for the Lake Shore road at Toledo struck Saturday for higher wages. Twenty-one of them quit work and three remained throughout the day. The men had to work in mud up to their knees and for this they were paid only $1.35 per day. They want $1.50.

William Kitselman and Frederick Deal, Nickel Plate conductors, have exchanged positions, the former taking a through freight and the latter a local freight run. Brakemen Imbody, Horton and Drake compose Conductor Deahl's crew, while Brakemen Ferrell and Sanders will be with Conductor Kitselman.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana, while it will run no more special trains to Rome City, has concluded to keep the $1.50 round trip fare in force until December 1. This is done at the request of numerous fishermen who will go to that resort during the coming month. Yesterday the company carried seventy-four fishermen to the resort.

George L. Louthain and Frank Kelly, switchmen employed on the Nickel Plate, missed the air brake instruction car when examinations were made in this city and they are in Chicago to receive instructions. The company requires a knowledge of the air brake from all of its employes who are in any manner connected with the active transportation department.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen very pleasantly entertained their friends at a lodge social Saturday night. The ladies are doing good work, not only in advancing the auxiliary, but in influencing men to join the brotherhood, which is now in a most flourishing condition. It had 128 members on its rolls and will soon increase the number to 150. Sunday morning the order took action upon a number of applicants.

At the request of the Commercial club, Superintendent M. L. Reynolds met that body Saturday to discuss a proposition for better train service on the Lake Shore road. The Commercial club suggested an early train out of this city and one returning from the north between 7 and 10 o'clock. Mr. Reynolds was of the opinion that the early morning train could be arranged for, but he was unable to state what the company could do in the way of granting the other request until he had consulted the general passenger agent, which he promised to do in a few days.

HOHENLOHE WAS IGNORED.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Prince Hohenlohe today made some interesting statements regarding his resignation of the chancellorship. Although expressing himself with great caution, he cited as the principal reason for resigning the fact that he had noticed for some time a growing desire to ignore him on important occasions. He admitted that his increasing deafness, especially in the left ear, had made it annoying for Emperor William to converse with him. While Prince Hohenlohe would not say what very recent occasion had particularly emphasized this inclination to ignore him, he asserted that this was the immediate cause of his going to Homburg with a written request to relinquish his official burdens. This, he said, he presented in person to Emperor William, who seemed astonished, but replied that, in view of the advanced age of the prince, he would not urge him to reconsider the resignation. It also appears that his parting with the kaiser was affectionate, and that both remain on good terms. When Prince Hohenlohe returns to Berlin for the winter he intends to frequent the court and its festivities, his physicians having urged him to this course, as they consider that the total absence of excitement would endanger his life. He is about to go to his ancestral home at Schillingsfuerst. Later he will go to Munich, and then to Meran, in the Austrian Tyrol, or to Italy, where he hopes to get relief from an annoying cough.

BOUTELLE A HOPELESS CASE.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 29.—Congressman Charles A. Boutelle, who has been an inmate of the McLean asylum for the insane at Waverly since last spring and who was recently re-elected by the people of his district in Maine despite his known condition, is regarded by the physicians at the institution as a hopeless case. His daughter, Miss Grace Boutelle, has taken apartments with a private family and when the weather permits takes him out for a drive. Boutelle's malady, which the physicians insist results from a clot of blood on the brain, does not yield to treatment. His moods vary. At times he appears and talks rationally for half an hour and then he will rave and storm about his rooms and swear the world is against him. When told his constituents had re-elected him the congressman did not understand at first, but finally he said: "Well, how kind of them." His nurses read the letters from his family and explain the meaning of much of their contents.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION

New York Building Blown to Pieces and Scores Killed or Injured.

NUMBER OF DEAD NOT KNOWN

New York, Oct. 29.—One of the most destructive explosions in the history of this city occurred a little after noon today in the building occupied by Tarrant & Co., wholesale druggists, at Greenwich and Warren streets.

The force of the explosion wrecked adjoining buildings, and the Irving bank across the street. The station of the Ninth Avenue Elevated Railroad company at Warren street was badly damaged and the road was blocked so that it will be impossible to resume traffic for some hours. The police report that a number of people lost their lives in the explosion, but up to 2:30 o'clock no dead body had been recovered from the ruined buildings, and it was impossible at that time to make anything like an accurate estimate of the number of lives lost. A great many were injured and were taken to the nearest hospitals. The building was on fire about five minutes before the first explosion occurred, and there were a number of firemen near it when the walls blew out, and it is feared that some of these were killed. The reports as to the occupants of the building, including about 125 working girls, are conflicting, but it is believed that the greater number of them escaped.

A report that Chief Cruger and fifteen men of the fire department were lost could neither be confirmed nor denied up to 2:30 o'clock. The property destroyed included nearly an entire block.

At 3 o'clock the fire was still burning but at that time it was believed to be under control.

It will never be known how many persons were injured. At the hospital all formality was done away with. Many persons had their injuries cared for and left without giving their names.

None but the less serious cases at the hospital have as yet been heard from. Those unconscious and dying were taken to wards and there cared for. No returns have yet been made to the hospital office from any of these wards.

For a block around the hospital there was a crowd in wild confusion. Both men and women were hysterical and it was very difficult to get information from many of them.

At 1 o'clock it was said that there were fully 150 persons in the building at the time of the first explosion, and few if any of them had time to escape. One young man who gave his name as Harry Ross said that he was standing on the corner when the explosion occurred. He was blown about ten feet. When he picked himself up he said he saw bodies flying through the air and landing in the flames. Three fire horses were so cut by flying glass that they will probably have to be shot. One fire engine was almost completely demolished by the falling walls.

It was said that 100 of the employes of the building were girls. They were on different floors when the fire broke out and the explosions occurred. It is hard to see how these girls could have escaped. In a restaurant next door to the drug store there were about 200 people eating their luncheon. Of these many were injured and it is reported that a score or more of them lost their lives.

Up to 12:45 p. m. eleven injured persons had been taken to the New York hospital. The police reserves from Old Slip, Church street, Oak street and Elizabeth street stations were called out.

The first explosion occurred at 12:12 p. m. It took the roof off the building. It was followed a minute and a half later by two or three sharper explosions that sent columns of flame and smoke high into the air.

The explosions sent debris flying through the air and into the street, where dozens of persons were injured.

All the ambulances from hospitals south of Fifty-ninth street have been called to the scene.

A lithographing place close to Tarrant's place caught fire and the flames spread to the Irving bank and to two buildings across the street.

The Warren street station of the Ninth avenue elevated road, directly in front of the drug establishment, was completely demolished and a number of persons who were standing upon it waiting for a train were blown to the street and received serious injury. Several women escaped from the station, however, by walking along the park platform at the edge of the track.

Several buildings at the rear of the drug store were blown down. The flames spread with wonderful rapidity, until the two blocks from Chambers to Warrenand from Washington to Greenwich streets were soon on fire.

John M. Elliott, of Brooklyn, was sitting on the roof of the six-story building at 66 West Broadway, a block and a half away from the explosion. He says the force of the first explosion was directly upwards for a matter of thirty feet, when the column of debris spread and fell downward. It took the roof off the building and he could hear the cries and screams of injured people. Three minutes later the third explosion, which, he said, was the worst of all, came. It shook the building where he was and debris fell all about him.

Policeman Galvin was in the immediate vicinity of the fire when the first of the series of explosions occurred. He said that a number of firemen were blown to death on the Warren street side of the building. He said that he rescued one of them, but that no living being could have rescued the others.

Policeman Galvan said that in his belief no less than 200 persons will be found to have lost their lives. This was on account of the suddenness of the explosions, which rendered it impossible for anybody who was in the building at the time to escape.

The force of the explosion was heard and felt clear down to Wall street and heavy plate glass windows were smashed and people thrown to the street a distance of four blocks away.

The employes of the Irving National bank, whose building stands directly across the street from Tarrant's place, were busily engaged at their desks at the time of the explosion. The first of the explosions came and not a clerk or official of the bank but who was thrown to the floor by the force of the concussion.

Thinking that the building was about to fall, several of the officials ran for the cash and had it taken out of the building and to a place of safety.

The clerks and other employes then made their way to the sidewalk and ran for places of safety.

Every available physician and ambulance surgeon who could be reached was called into service and the various stores which were not damaged by the explosions were turned into temporary hospitals for the care of the wounded.

It was only an instant after the first of the explosions occurred when the elevated structure caught fire. Fortunately there was no train in the immediate vicinity at the moment. The structure was in a blaze for a distance of half a block in less time than it takes to tell it.

Superintendent Skitt, of the Manhattan railway company, hearing of the trouble, hurried to the scene in person and with a gang of employes directed them in an effort to save as much of the structure as possible. The damage was so great to the roadway that traffic cannot be resumed for some time to come.

John Wiegand, who keeps a store at 43 Park place, three blocks from the scene of the explosions and fire, said that his windows were not only blown in, but that he was lifted clear from the ground by the force of the concussion.

The crowds which gathered about the scene were so great that the police were for a time powerless to keep them in order. Several lines were established, but the people appeared to be so beside themselves that they broke through and swamped the police. All the available reserves from neighboring station houses were called out, and even then the crowds appared for a time to get the better of them. Reserves were then ordered from half a dozen or more stations.

The streets for several blocks were strewn with broken glass and other debris and blood was spattered in every direction, showing that there must have been many persons in the vicinity at the time who were injured by falling glass.

The building as it fell came out and the elevated station was completely demolished and hidden from view by the debris. Much of the elevated structure was carried away.

Joseph Beck, an employe of Tarrant & Co., was seen after the explosion. His head was swathed in bandages and his right arm hung limp. He said that there were about two hundred girls in the building. Many of them escaped on the fire escapes. There were at least seventy-five, he said, that could not possibly have gotten away. The girls were all eating their lunch at the time the fire started, he said. He said that Tarrant & Co. carried a large stock. There was also a large quantity of alcohol and other explosive liquids stored in the building.

The building was also used as a storage warehouse by R. W. Phair & Co., who manufacture a patent medicine, as well as W. J. Breittenbach & Co., also manufacturers of medicines.

J. Donnison, the cashier of the Irving bank, was bruised and cut. H. C. T. Mecklin, of East Orange, and S. Combs, of Brooklyn, were also injured.

At 12:50 p. m. two explosions occurred in the building occupied by J. H. Mohlman & Co., grocers, in Greenwich street.

At 1:30 it was not possible to tell if any of the firemen were missing. There was a report that Assistant Chief Cruger and fifteen men of No. 10 truck were missing. The firemen were so busy and the confusion such that nothing certain could be learned.

A girl employed near the Tarrant building declared that the girls ate their lunches on one of the upper floors. She said she knew they could not have escaped.

Rev. Martin Luther, of the Wilson Memorial chapel, who was within a block of the scene of the accident, when the explosion occurred, had a narrow escape. He was on his way from the Franklin street ferry to attend the noon meeting at the St. John street Methodist church. He was in a very excited state of excitement as the result of his trying experience and was suffering from a wound in the head as the result of trying to hold a horse which had been knocked down by a truck. He was kicked in the head.

T. M. Coughlin, employed by the firm of W. O. Sexton & Co., said he saw two men and a woman on the top floor of the Tarrant building just after the fire broke out. They were frantically appealing for aid. They were at the window when the building collapsed and fell back into the ruins. There is no doubt of their fate.

At 3 o'clock rumors concerning the loss of life were many and various, but none of them could be verified. At that time it was reported that Lena Spritt, one of Tarrant's employes, was killed in the street by falling brick.

E. Fank, who is a bookkeeper, for M. J. Brittenbach & Co., who were in the Tarrant building, said that Thomas F. Main, president of Tarrant & Co., and secretary of the New York College of Pharmacy, and Mr. Allen, a member of the firm, were in the building, but escaped with slight injuries He says that the majority of Tarrant & Co.'s employes also managed to get away.

Edaward Bradley and his wife, employed by J. Caroll, printer, 40 Murray street, were on their way to lunch when the explosion occurred They were in the door of the building. His wife was a few feet back of him. He heard her shriek for help and loked around, but the place where she had been was covered with debris. He is certain she was killed. They had two small children.

Thirty-four injured persons have been attended at the Hudson street hospital.

Joseph Aken, a waiter in the Home Made hotel, 284 Greenwich stret badly burned and cut about the face, arms, hands and entire body; condition critical.

Mrs. Bishop and two daughters, wife and children of the proprietor of the Home Made hotel, are missing. It is believed they were killed.

AGAIN AT WORK

BRYAN AND ROOSEVELT ARE ON THE WING.

ARE CLOSING THE CAMPAIGN

BRYAN TO SPEND TWO MORE DAYS IN NEW YORK.

WILL THEN COME OUT WEST

ROOSEVELT LAUDS M'KINLEY'S ADMINISTRATION.

Bainbridge, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Mr. Bryan began the first day of the last week of his campaign with a brief speech at this place. His train had been run rrom New York to Bainbridge via Albany during the night and brought up here at 7 o'clock. Notwithstanding the early hour, there was a throng of people at the railroad station and Mr. Bryan was compelled to respond to their calls. He had not yet arisen, but he dressed promptly and went to the rear platform of the Rambler, where he was soon joined by Mrs. Bryan, who will remain with him during the week. There were loud cheers both for Mr. Baryan and his wife and a general demand for a handshake, which was acceded to by both. The resident population had been reinforced by train loads of people from other places.

Mr. Bryan started the day with a schedule of thirty speeches before him, but he announced at the breakfast table that he was never in better condition for the campaign and said that he wanted to make all the speeches so as to break his own record, the highest number which he had hitherto made in one day being twenty-seven.

This point developed a new orator in the party in the person of James C. Dahlman, the Nebraska national committeeman. While the crowd was waiting at the depot for Mr. Bryan and clamoring for his appearance, Mr. Dahlman stepped out on the rear platform to explain the situation. Then he made a speech, telling the people that he had been with Mr. Bryan from the beginning of his campaign and that he was sure there would be a landslide in his favor. There are gains everywhere, he said, even in Canton, the president's own home, where Mr. Bryan received only 37 votes in 1896, there is now a democratic club of between 400 and 500 members and he concluded Canton is only a sample of what is going on.

Mr. Bryan was greeted by a fine crowd when he began to speak at Bainbridge. He said:

"I extended the time of my stay in New York in order to come up into this part of the state. I am glad to talk to farmers, for it seems to me that if the people of this country who are working on the farm, who are making their living out of the soil, will examine public questions that very few farmers will be able to give a reason for voting the republican ticket. In this part of New York you have a great many republican farmers—in fact, the republicans have now admitted that the cities are lost. They started out with the full dinner pail as an argument. They started out with the assertion that the country was prosperous and that therefore everybody would vote the republican ticket, and yet today the republicans are not mentioning the full dinner pail any more."

Proceeding, Mr. Bryan said that the republicans had abandoned the idea of carrying the cities and were now appealing to the farmers.

MR. BRYAN AT CHURCH

New York, Oct. 29.—William J. Bryan prepared for the last week of the campaign by resting in this city yesterday. He finished the week Saturday night considerably fagged and with a voice that demanded the first medical attention he has received since the campaign opened. After spending the night at the Hoffman house he attended Dr. Parkhurst's church, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan. In his regular announcements the noted pastor said that on next Sunday he would devote his morning sermon to political matters, intimating that his congregation would hear something of unusual interest, if not sensational. He followed the announcement by a request for the prayers of his congregation that he might say that which was on the side of right. No allusion to the presence of Mr. Bryan was made. Gossipers are divided on Dr. Parkhurst's probable course, many believing that he will publically declare for Mr. Bryan, and others that after working up the public interest he will come out flat footed for McKinley.

THOUSANDS CHEER BRYAN.

Fifty thousand persons listened to Bryan's speeches and cheers from three times that many throats rang in his ears during his second progress through this city Saturday night. From a campaign excursion into Connecticut during the day in which he spoke to 8,000 men in New Haven, 25,000 at other places and was escorted back to this city by 150 Yale students' Bryan returned here. In Madison Square Garden and park, which had resounded the night before with plaudits for McKinley and Roosevelt and groans for Bryan, the names of the republican candidates were hissed, while Bryan was cheered.

In his speech at Cooper Union Bryan declared that he still stood where he did four years ago on the financial question and that he had not attempted to conceal the fact. He would be unworthy any office, he said, if he surrendered his convictions.

HILL AND COCKRAN CHEERED.

While Mr. Bryan was making his way through cheering multitudes to the smaller meetings, David B. Hill and W. Bourke Cockran were holding the attention of the 15,000 persons who filled Madison Square Garden. Mrs. Bryan sat in a box conspicuous by flowers, directly opposite the platform from which her husband was to speak. Richard Croker occupied a box on her right. Anson Phelps Stokes, who presided was cut short by cries of "Hill!" before he had finished his introductory remarks. When the former senator was introduced there was a tossing of American flags all over the auditorium and a hearty burst of cheering.

Mr. Cockran was greted by tremendous aplause. His personal allusions aroused enthusiasm, but the obstruse nature of his main argument was rather over the heads of the crowd.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The state department today issued the following:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

It has pleased Almighty God to bring our nation in safety and honor through another year. The works of religion and charity have everywhere been manifest. Our country through all its extent has been blessed with abundant harvests. Labor and the great industries of the people have prospered beyond all precedent. Our commerce has spread over the world. Our power and influence in the cause of freedom and enlightenment have extended over distant seas and lands. The lives of our official representatives and many of our people in China have been marvelously preserved. We have been generally exempt from pestilence and other great calamities, and even the tragic visitation which overwhelmed the city of Galveston made evident the sentiments of sympathy and Christian charity by virtue of which we are one united people.

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 29th of November, next, to be observed by all the people of the United States at home or abroad as a day of thanksgiving and praise, to Him who holds the nations in the hollow of His hand. I recommend that they gather in their several places of worship and devoutly give Him thanks for the prosperity wherewith He has endowed us, for seed time and harvest, for the valor, devotion and humanity of our armies and navies, and for all His benefits to us as individuals and as a nation, and that they humbly pray for the continuance of His divine favor, for concord and amity with other nations, and for righteousness and peace in all our ways.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-fifth.

By the President: William McKinley.

John Hay, Secretary of State.

FIVE THOUSAND IDLE

OTHER PLACES WORK RESUMED

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 29.—Over 5,000 mine employes in the Lackawanna valley refused to return to work this morning because the companies for which they had mined coal failed to comply with the terms of the Scranton miners' convention.

The companies affected are the Ontario and Western Railroad company's ten mines, employing 4,000 men; the Forest Mining company, at Archbald, employing 800 men, who have been on strike since last January; the Green Ridge Coal company, employing 400, and the Clark Tunnel Coal company, employing 100.

At all the other mines there was a complete resumption, even at those of Jermyn & Co., in Old Forge, where it was believed yesterday the men would not go back until they were assured that the grievances because of which they struck last March will be adjusted.

The Ontario and Western company's employes will hold a mass meeting at Peckville this afternoon, at which they will insist upon the company putting up a supplemental notice conforming with the notice posted by the Lackawanna, the Delaware and Hudson and the Pennsylvania companies. They will insist upon the positive announcement that powder will be sold to miners at $1.50 a keg and that the wage increase per car will be two and one-half cents. They will give the company reasonable time in which to post the notices and the leaders say if this is not done the men will seek work in other mines where there is reported to be a scarcity of help. Several thousands of men who struck have either gone to the western soft coal fields or returned to their homes in Europe. This naturally diminishes the supply of competent help, as the mines all want to work at their fullest capacity in order to replenish the exhausted stocks of coal. For this reason it is believed that the union can tie up mines that show a disposition not to comply with their demands. The labor leaders say they will insist upon the enforcement of the mine laws, which provide that miners must be qualified workmen and have certificates to that effect. This would prevent the bringing of emigrants and miners from other states.

THOUSANDS WENT TO WORK.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 29.—When the colliery whistles blew this morning 15,000 men and boys between Trevorton, this place and Mount Carmel reported for work. The only collieries idle are Henry Clay, Excelsior and Corbin. They will be in operation in a few days.

NOT ALL AT WORK.

Hazelton, Pa., Oct. 29.—Operations were resumed this morning at a majority of the collieries in the Hazelton district and they will be continued in full blast for the next two months. The strike is still on at the mines of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, located at Audenried, Honeybrook and Green Mountain. One of the officials of the company said this morning that the company had informed the men that it would abolish the sliding scale and agree to pay the 10 per cent increase until April 1, and they did not know why they refused to report. The mine workers claim that they want a written guarantee in this respect.

The Oneida and Derringer collieries of Coxe Bros. & Co. are also idle because of some misunderstanding on account of the notices posted by the company. All hands will probably be at work tomorrow. The only other colliery that did not resume is the one at Milnesville, where no demands have been granted at all. Before the strike began this company threatened to abandon this mine and it seems that the threat will be carried out.

About 100 strikers found themselves out of work at the Lattimer colliery of C. Pardee & Co. Twenty-five of these men, the firm claims, got their settlement in full when they quit and were no longer considered employes, so their places were filled by others this morning. The other seventy-five were sent home because of the abandoning of the Buck Mountain vein by the firm, who say that operation of this part of the workings will be unprofitable on account of the 10 per cent increase.

The fifty men employed at Tyler & McTurk's Stockton washery refused to work because, they allege, they were offered only a 5 per cent increase in wages, instead of 10, which they expected.

A. Pardee & Co. having filled the places of six "Lokie" runners, the miners refused to go back to work at Cranberry until their runners were reinstated, and in consequence the colliery is idle. General Superintendent Pardee received a committee of the men and has the matter of reinstatement under consideration.

HIS ARM CRUSHD TO A PULP

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT TO AN ASPHALT WORKMAN.

Joseph Allison Caught in Machinery of a Steam Roller on Third Street This Morning.

Joseph Allison, of Chicago, 26 years of age and unmarried, lost his right arm as the result of a frightful accident on West Third street shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. Allison was chief roller-man for the Bermudez Asphalt Paving company, which is nearing the completion of its work on that street.

The unfortunate man was operating the immense five-ton steam roller used for rolling the asphalt covering of the street, and at the left side of the machine is an immense cog gearing by which the motive power is transmitted from the engine to the roler. Close to this caring is a spray valve connected with the injector, and Allison reached down to open this valve. As he did so his sleeve caught in the cogs and Allison's right forearm was drawn quickly between the ponderous wheels, crushing the arm to a pulp from just above the wrist nearly to the elbow

The hand hung by a mere shred when the machine was finally stopped Physicians and the ambulance were summoned by telephone, and Allison was hurried to St Joseph hospital where Dr. Porter and Dr. C. E. Stultz found it necessary to amputate the arm above the elbow. Foreman Charles Luke says that Allison was one of the best men in the employ of the company, with which he has been connected several years. Allison came to the city about two weeks ago in response to a request from the foreman and is considered an expert in his line.

MR. MORSS WAS HERE.

Hon. S. E. Morss, of the Indianapolis Sentinel, and former consul general to Paris, was in the city Sunday for a brief visit with relatives and old friends. Mr. Morss expresses confidence in democratic victory, both state and national, this year, and says conditions are brightening daily. He left for his home early this morning.

The remains will arrive from the Philippines within a few days. Mrs. McQuiston, widow of the dead captain, is a neice of Col. Charles S. Denby, former United States minister to China, and Col. WELCOME TROOPS

LONDON GREETS RETURNING VOLUNTEERS.

STUPENDOUS DEMONSTRATION IN LONDON STREETS.

THE POPULACE KHAKI MAD

FORMER OUTBURSTS OF FEELING ECLIPSED.

London, Oct. 29.—The City Imperial volunteers, who arrived at Southampton from South Africa Saturday on the British transport Aurania, reached here by train this morning, marched through London, along streets packed by thousands and received a tumultous greeting. Such a demonstration was probably never before evoked for such a small body of volunteers.

The postponement of London's welcome until today diminished the number of spectators, but the enthusiasm could scarcely have been more general or genuine. Early in the day Queen Victoria sent a message to the returning troops, welcoming them and inquiring as to their health. The prince of Wales came to town and viewed the procession from Marlborough house. The other royal personages watching the little band of men in khaki uniforms were Princess Louise, the duchess of Argyle and Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar, who, with many other distinguished people, had taken up positions of vantage early in the morning. The clubs in Piccadilly presented an unusual spectacle. Hundreds of women were at the windows, these sacred precincts having thrown open their doors in honor of the great occasion. All along the line of march there were festoons of flags and other such devices, presenting a brilliant spectacle, though, as a matter of fact, the decorations had been up since Saturday and had been drenched with Sunday's rains, which had not improved the colors.

In addition to the City Imperial volunteers themselves, there were in the procession the bands of twelve volunteer regiments and 24,000 regulars and volunteers lined the route.

Among the most interesting features of the display was the presence in the procession of the invalided City Imperial volunteers in carriages flying the Red Cross flag and the assemblage at a conspicuous point in the street of the few remaining survivors of the Balaklava charge.

The locomotives which drew the City Imperial volunteer trains from Southampton were respectively named "Victoria," "Roberts," "Powerful" and "The Maine." To the last the invalids were intrusted.

The exuberant throngs proved unmanageable and the police and soldiers were quite unable to stem the ugly rushes. The crush of the populace became so terrible at the Marble arch that the people broke through the cordon, and when the field was again cleared forty persons requiring the aid of ambulance-surgeons were left lying on the ground, several of them suffering from serious injuries.

In Narrow Fleet street the crowds broke down all the barriers and sight-seers, soldiers, police and City Imperial volunteers were mixed up in a confused mass, from which the volunteers had to be extricated in single file.

A fractious cavalry horse stampeded the crowd at Ludgate circus and fifty persons who were injured had to be attended to by the ambulance corps.

BRUTAL CHICAGO MURDER.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—With a bullet in his brain, his throat cut from ear to ear, his face hacked almost beyond recognition, and one eye gouged out, Anton Lizl, a Bohemian florist, brother to the burgomaster of Prague, Bohemia, was found dead yesterday in a ditch near Forty-third court and the north branch of the Chicago river. Twelve hours later Joseph Dolinski, a Polish florist, was arrested for the crime. When arrested Dolinski's clothes were covered with blood. Mary Lizl, widow of the murdered man, is also detained by the police. Lizl had been married but a few weeks. Dolinski had formerly been a suitor for her hand.

TURNED TABLES ON DE WET

THE BOER LEADER REPORTED DEFEATED.

Lost a Number of Men and Some Guns—British Suffer a Serious Defeat and Loss.

London, Oct. 29.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts, dated Pretoria, October 28:

"Knox successfully engaged De Wet October 27. During the Boer retreat Knox caught De Wet in the Rensburg drift. The Boers lost considerably and left two guns and three wagons in Knox's hands. Another ammunition wagon was blown up by a shell. The British casualties were nil."

Referring to the Jacobsdal affair, Lord Roberts says it was due to the treachery of the inhabitants, who admitted the Boers to their houses at night. They opened fire at daybreak. Fourteen men were killed and thirteen were wounded, mostly Cape Highlanders. Troops dispatched from the Modder river drove off the Boers. The houses of the treacherous inhabitants were destroyed. Commandant Bosman was killed.

Lord Roberts calls attention to the "increasing inclination of the better class of Boers to co-operate with the British to secure peace," since they find that guerilla warfare is "visited with heavy punishment."

BOERS CAPTURE TWO CANNON.

London, Oct. 29. According to a dispatch from Cape Town to the Daily Mail a force of Boers attacked and surrounded a patrol of Cape police with a convoy near Hoopstad, Orange River colony, on last Wednesday and a sharp fight ensued.

"The police," says the correspondent, "were compelled to abandon two maxims. Ultimately reinforced by the yeomanry, they succeeded in getting away with the convoy, but they lost seven killed, eleven wounded, and fifteen captured. The colonials were outnumbered ten to one and the engagement lasted for two hours.

"The Boers have 15,000 men in the field, nearly half of whom are in Orange River colony. These are divided into commandos of about 300 each, but are capable of combination for large operations."

MEXICO'S CENSUS IS TAKEN.

Monterey, Mex., Oct. 29.—The federal census was taken throughout Mexico yesterday. Only the population was enumerated. Preparations for the work had been in progress for some time, and it is believed that the enumeration taken is the most complete ever made in this republic.

The census that was taken ten years ago was far from complete, for the reason that many ignorant natives feared that their names were wanted by the authorities for the purpose of forcing them into the army, and when the enumerators appeared they hid themselves.

This fear was largely overcome in the present effort through the wide distribution of public circulars among the people, announcing the object of the proposed enumeration. The priests of every parish in Mexico also explained to their parishioners the objects of the census. It is believed the figures will show a wonderful growth in population throughout Mexico during the last decade.

WHITE MEN THEIR LEADERS

FILIPINOS FOLLOW FORMER ANTAGONISTS.

Deserters From the American Army Are Assisting the Insurgents in the Philippines.

Manila, Oct. 29.—While scouting near Looc a detachment of the Twentieth and Twenty-eighth regiments, under Captain Beigler, were attacked by 400 insurgents armed with rifles, under the command of a white man, whose nationality is not known to the Americans. The insurgents for the most part were intrenched.

After a heroic fight Captain Beigler drove off the enemy, killing more than seventy-five. The fight lasted for two hours. Captain Beigler and three privates were slightly wounded and two of the Americans were killed.

An engagement took place October 24 between detachments of the Third cavalry and the Thirty-third volunteer infantry, numbering sixty, and a force of insurgents, including 400 riflemen and 1,000 bolomen. The fighting was desperate. Finally under pressure of overwhelming numbers the Americans were compelled to retire on Narvican.

FIVE AMERICANS KILLED.

Lieut. George L. Febiger and four privates were killed, nine were wounded and four are missing. A number of teamsters were captured by the insurgents, but were subsequently released. The enemy's loss is estimated at 150.

A civilian launch towing a barge loaded with merchandise near Arayat was attacked by a force of 150 insurgents under David Fagin, a deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry. The American troops on hearing the firing turned out in force before the boat could be looted and captured.

Fagin, who holds the rank of general among the insurgents, has sworn special enmity toward his former company. Of the twenty men captured a month ago seven have returned. One was killed in a fight, his body being horribly mutilated.

Fagin sends messages to his former comrades threatening them with violence if they become his prisoners. It was Fagin's men who captured Lieut. Frederick W. Alstaetter, who is still a prisoner.

EXPEDITION FULL OF PERIL.

General Hall's expedition, with a force of nearly 800 men, through the mountains to Binangonan, province of Infanta, in pursuit of the insurgent general Cailles, although it discovered no trace of the enemy, encountered great hardships on the march. Twenty Chinese porters died and forty men were sent into the hospital.

After stationing a garrison of 250 men in Binangonan and visiting Polillo island, off the coast of Infanta province, General Hall and the rest of his force embarked there on the transport Garronse.

Reports from General Young's district show a daily increase of insurgents there owing to the fact that recruits are going thither from the towns.

While a detail of the Thirty-third volunteer infantry was returning from Bangued on rafts it was fired upon by insurgents. Sergeant Berdstaller being killed and two privates wounded.

The Philippine commission has decided to compile the revised Philippines customs tariff from its own investigations, assisted by the report of the army board. The result will be forwarded to the United States for publication and discussion among those interested in foreign commerce.

When the details appear to be satisfactory and the draft has been approved by the secretary of war the commission will promulgate it here as a law. The measure has taken on a new and international commercial interest and the course of the commission is heartily commended here.

Archbishop Chapelle, who recently left Manila, accompanied by several friars, for the northern districts of Luzon, under conditions that aroused the suspicions of the Filipinos here that he intended to establish the friars in parishes there, was warmly welcomed on his arrival at Dagupan.

As two years have elapsed since an opportunity for baptism had been presented, more than 2,500 persons have been baptized.

In view of the protest of the parish against the appointment of a friar as parish priest Mgr. Chapelle did not attempt to make it.

BELIEVES IN TRUSTS.

Friday night at the Roosevelt dinner in the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, United States Senator N. B. Scott, of West Virginia, chief of the speakers' bureau of the republican national committee and Mark Hanna's right hand man in the management of the campaign in the east, won the distinction of the Burchard of the 1900 McKinley campaign. In the course of a speech to a few political managers, trust magnates and bankers, he said he believed in trusts and went so far as to specifically name the Standard Oil company as a trust that was doing much good. He said:

NATHAN B. SCOTT.

United States Senator From the State of West Virginia and President McKinley's Burchard.

"Right here I want to say I believe in trusts. They are a good thing. The Standard Oil company put in its pipe line to all the small towns where oil is produced, and if it was not for the Standard Oil company this prosperity that we have would'nt be there today."

This remark seemed to cause some consternation. Senator Scott immediately recognized that he made a faux-pas, and, standing up in his chair and pointing to the newspaper reporter over in the corner, said:

"If that newspaper man puts that down I will make trouble for him."

At the same Mr. Bliss, Mr. Odell, General Greene and several others requested that the remark of Senator Scott be not made public. After this the conversation lagged a little.

THE INTER-STATE AVERAGES

FORT WAYNE IS AWAY UP IN BATTING AND FIELDING.

Hollingsworth Leads Second Basemen and Hemphill Centerfielders—Other Averages.

The Pittsburg Leader, of which C. B. Power is sporting editor, printed the official averages of the Inter-State league last Saturday. The averages are by far the most complete ever given out by the Inter-State and stand as a monument of Mr. Power's administration of affairs. Fort Wayne is second in fielding and third in batting and ranks away up in almost every department of the game. Schills, who played only a few games, leads the league in batting, but Beck is the real leader, with an average of .360. He is also credited with 120 extra bases. He leads in two-base hits, having 71 to his credit. Bradley has the most home runs, 18. Bradley always went to first oftenest on balls, 115 times, Charley Babb coming second. Babb was hit oftener by a pitched ball than any other Inter-State player. Hollingsworth is the real leader of the second basemen, Eagan only having a better average and he played in few games. Hemphill leads the center fielders, he having made only one error in twenty-eight games. Kleinow and Krueger are the only Fort Wayne batters who hit over .300. Kleinow's average being .329 and Krueger's .317. Miller has an average of .293 and Babb .285. Brashear's batting average is .255. Belden ranks away up as a left fielder and Bergen caught the most games, 120, and made 23 errors. Jones leads the league in percentage of games won. Fricken ranks second of the Fort Wayne twirlers, Swaim third and Harper last, each of them having pitched in more victories than defeats. Dayton leads the league in fielding and Toledo in batting. Krueger had more chances than any other shortstop and had more hits than any batter except Beck, who had 207 to his credit.

Mrs. Mary Ann Lichtle, wife of Peter Lichtle, residing at 134 Eliza street, died shortly after 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon from paralysis of the brain. Mrs. Lichtle was stricken suddenly while engaged in her household duties Sunday morning, and previous to that time was in her usual good health.

PURE BLOOD

Necessary to Life. Vinol Makes it.

POOR BLOOD CAUSES ERUPTIONS AND WEAKNESS.

Vinol Makes Pure, Rich, Red Blood.

BECAUSE WE KNOWN THIS WE GUARANTEE ITS ACTION.

Impoverished blood is a sure sign of internal disorders. We see every day too many people whose faces plainly show that there is something radically wrong.

We want all of our fellow-citizens to know of our splendid blood purifier and blood maker.

We refer to Vinol.

Vinol, as we have before stated, is a purely scientific preparation.

Vinol owes its virtue to the fact that it contains in a highly concentraced state the active curative principles, taken from the livers of live cods—the same elements that formerly were found in cod-liver oil, and which made it famous.

Vinol does not contain the grease or fat that characterized cod-liver oil and made it in many cases worthless.

Vinol acts upon every one of the great vital organs, and by invigorating and giving them strength, enables them to properly perform their functions.

Vinol's effect on the stomach is marvelous. It tones up this, the greatest of the organs of the body, and enables it to obtain from the food which is taken into it the necessary elements to create flesh and muscle tissue, bone structure and pure, rich, red blood.

We are in receipt of a letter from a Savation Army woman which reads as follows:

"I took Vinol after a bad attack of grippe, and so much good did it do me that I persuaded my sister to take it. She was all tired out. Had no appetite and her blood was very poor. It did her as much good as it did me."—Betsy Hanershaw, 718 River St., Fall River, Mass.

Won't you please come in and see us? We are always glad to extol the merits of Vinol.

We will give you back your money if you don't find Vinol will do all we claim it will. Could any one do more for you?

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on.

Mr. H. T. Shube, 1504 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face, which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has ever returned."

Bad blood makes bad complexions.

SSS purifies and invigorates the old and makes new, rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active, and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part towards carrying off the impurities from the body.

If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

SAW THE POHLER AIR SYSTEM

CITY OFFICIALS VISIT THE STATE CAPITAL.

Were Favorably Impressed and Will Recommend Adoption by Water Works Department.

If the board of water works trustees accept the recommendation of the city council the Pohler compressed air system will be adopted by the water works department of the city of Fort Wayne. Yesterday the special committee of councilmen appointed by Mayor Scherer to investigate the system went to Indianapolis and were shown the working of the system in the water works department of the Capital City. They were so well pleased that the sentiment is unanimous that by using compressed air there will never again be a scarcity of water in Fort Wayne unless the water supply itself fails. With 400 horse-power the Indianapolis water works system furnishes in one day as high as 23,000,000 gallons of water to its consumers and the average consumption is nearly 15,000,000. The committee from Fort Wayne was composed of Councilmen Hosey, Scheid, Schwartz, Zurbuch and Lennart. William Tegtmeyer, water works trustee, and John Oliphant, representing the Ingersoll-Sargent Air Compressing company, Cleveland, and Mr. Young, of the ShawKendall Construction company, of Toledo, accompanied the council committee.

Rev. Charles E. White will lecture before the Berry Street Epworth league on Tuesday evening on "Is Life Worth Living?"

The preparatory services to have been held Wednesday evening at Plymouth Congregational church have been postponed until Thursday evening.

"Good Literature" day was observed in the Epworth League of the various M. E. churches last evening, and addresses of special interest were given.

The wedding of Miss Clara Lantenier and Frank Myers will take place at the Cathedral at 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning, Rev. P. J. O'Reilly officiating.

The dance to be given in Hanker's hall on Wednesday evening will be given by the young men of the high school and not by the Delta Sigma Nu fraternity as announced.

The members of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ will give a reception tomorrow evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Dalman, who shortly leaves for California to spend the winter.

Mortimer Snow, who plays the leading role in "We-Uns of Tennessee," which is at the Temple theater this evening, is a cousin of Dr. John McAllister and is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. McAllister during his stay here.

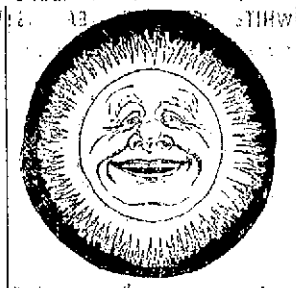
The semi-annual muster and inspection of Company D and Battery B will be held this evening at the armaries of the two military organizations. Major Miller, of Indianapolis, will probably be the inspecting officer. Company D has received the new fatigue caps and overcoats and will appear in full uniform.

Miss Florence France and Martin Neumann gave a 'bus party to the Goebel farm, south of the city, on Saturday evening, and about forty young people went out. Refreshments were served when the party arrived, and the evening was most pleasantly passed with games of various kinds, dancing and music.

Architect J. M. E. Riedel is preparing plans for a store building for Henry Buesching. The store will be brick, two stories and basement, and the dimensions will be 22x60 feet. The building will be erected on the corner of Monroe and Wallace streets, and when completed will be occupied by Mr. Buesching with a stock of groceries.

The E'Galantes met in the Tri-State building on Sunday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Robert Cragg; vice president, Theodore Dodane; treasurer, Joe Berghoff; secretary, Julius Siemon; floor manager, Carl Zur Muhlen. A number of committees were appointed, one committee to choose a hall and report at the next meeting to be held on Sunday, November 4. Arrangements were made for dances to be given during the winter.

James Sutton, a thresher employed at the farm of James Gillie, northeast of the city, was caught between a threshing machine and water tank on Saturday and badly crushed. Sutton was seated on the front end of the tank and when going down hill the tank became uncoupled and collided with the engine. The man was caught between the two and his collar bone and shoulder blade were fractured. Dr. Emery Stults attended him.



Show us a fault in our business and we stop it at once, no matter how profitable. We don't believe a fault can ever be really profitable.

"They" said our Ague Cure was too bitter and powerful for the weak digestion of malarial illness.

We have corrected the fault. It's cost us thousands of dollars to do it, but we have corrected it.

And there is no better medicine under the sun for every form of malaria than this new Malaria and Ague Cure.

A FINE RECEPTION.

S. W. Gillian, city editor of the Richmond Palladium and famous as a poet, was the guest of honor at a reception by the Royal League on Saturday evening in Odd Fellows' hall. A special program had been arranged for the occasion, the chief events being readings by Mr. Gillian from his own works. Others who took part were Miss Alice Rynn and Miss Lorene Travers and Adolph Schulte and Reineke's orchestra. Mr. Gillian concluded the program with his famous comic poem entitled "Finnegan to Flannagan."

Mrs. Harry Prentiss, of 93 Stophlet street, visited friends at Albion yesterday.

ENTHUSIASTIC CONVERTS.

There Are Thousands of Them Who Believe as This Woman Does.

Mrs. Ira Knowlton, of Butte, Mont., is a most enthusiastic convert to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a cure for obstinate stomach trouble. She says: "I had poor digestion nearly all my life. It now seems to me that for years I never knew what it was to be hungry, to have a good, natural appetite.

"It was troubled with gas in stomach, causing pressure on the heart, with palpitation and short breath. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach—sometimes I had cramps in the stomach which almost resembled spasms.

"Doctors told me I had catarrh of the stomach, but their medicines would not reach it and I would still be a sufferer had I not, in sheer desperation, decided to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I knew they were an advertised remedy and I didn't believe anything I read about them, as I had no confidence in advertised remedies, but my sister living in Pittsburg wrote me last spring telling me how Stuart's Tablets had cured her and her little daughters of indigestion and loss of flesh and appetite and I hesitated no longer.

"I bought a fifty-cent box at my drug store and took two of the large tablets after each meal and found them delightful to take, being as pleasant to the taste as caramel candy. Whenever during the day or night I felt any pain or uneasiness in the stomach or about the heart, I took one of the small tablets and in three weeks it seemed to me as if I had never known what stomach trouble was.

"I keep Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the house and every member of our family uses them occasionally after a hearty meal or when any of us have a pain or ache in the digestive organs."

Mr. E. H. Davis, of Hampton, Va., says: "I doctored five years for dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets than in five years of the doctors' treatment."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, bloating after meals, sympathetic heart trouble.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is not a cheap cathartic, but an active digestive remedy containing the pepsin and diastase which every weak stomach lacks and they cure stomach troubles because they digest the food eaten and give the weak, abused, over-worked stomach a chance to rest and recuperate.

FINN'S FINE STANDS.

Manager Finn, of the Youngstown base ball club, was fined during the base ball season in the circuit court after he had paid a fine in the lower court, the state contending that there had been collusion between the base ball management and the police. Saturday the circuit court at Youngstown approved the finding of the lower court and practically by its decision holds that the officers had an agreement with the base ball management.

WILL DISCUSS MORMONISM.

Mrs. Sarah J. Elliot, a deaconess of the Episcopal church, will deliver an address this evening in the First Presbyterian church. Her subject will be "Mormonism." Mrs. Elliot has spent many years in Utah as a missionary among the Mormons, and she is thoroughly conversant with the conditions that exist among the people of this sect. Mrs. Elliot took a prominent part in the anti-Roberts agitation, and her visit here is for the purpose of renewing the anti-Mormon sentiment preparatory to the proposed amendment of the constitution which comes before congress at the next session. Mrs. Elliot comes here under the auspices of the Presbyterian board of home missions. Mrs. Elliot is perhaps the best known woman lobbyist in the United States.

Randall and Miss Alice Crane. Mrs. Joseph Rossell and Mrs. George Belott presided in the dining room, assisted by four young ladies, Miss Clara Porter, Miss Jessie Reitze, Miss Marjorie Olds and Miss Alice Foster. Miss Myrtle Wilding and Miss Mann Beebe served punch. The supper was served by Lacklin. More than three hundred invitations were issued for the event and during the entire evening the rooms were filled with guests who came to offer congratulations and good wishes.

The embers of the war in South Africa are stil red hot. Fights are reported simultaneously from three points in the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony. Ex-President Stein has taken the field and is reported as having established his "capital" at Fouriesburg. Lord Roberts may be still a good way from the end of his mission as a conqueror.

The world having been satisfied that the sociable and musical mosquito is the transportation system used by the malaria germ in his travels among and into mankind, is now advised on high medical authority, that the same vehicle is the coach and four in which yellow jack drives to murder his victims. If this theory be correct, it would seem difficult to place limitations upon the potentialities which may accompany the mosquito on his rounds; and the duty of the state to exterminate his tribe would seem to be mandatory.

Our volatile French friends are preparing actively to "twist the Lion's tail" by giving an official and enthusiastic reception to ex-President Kruger on the occasion of his visit to France. President Loubet and M. Delcasse may not think that the scheme is altogether a safe one, in view of the rather shaky relations between the republic and England, but they seem to be taking to it with outward pleasure, since to do otherwise would bring them into trouble with all the Anglophobe elements of their nation. The British will be duly insulted and enraged, but it is doubtful if their resentment will take any tangible form. Nevertheless, there is a possibility that official honors paid to the queen's enemy may accentuate existing bad feelings and perhaps hasten the day when it is believed in some quarters that John Bull and Jean Crapaud are destined to come to blows.

Ex-Secretary Charles S. Fairchild holds that trusts are the necessary result of steam and electricity He may be right, because it is possible that both have qualities and powers yet undiscovered But we should like to be informed if steam and electricity, naturally and of necessity, make secret rebate deals with transportation systems and thus ruin non-trust manufacturers and if it is true that steam and electricity of their own vigor monopolize the entire control and production of a prime national necessity like anthracite coal, and concentrate such things in the hands of half a dozen trust magnates.

The Springfield Republican sees nothing alarming in the rising sentiment that republican newspapers and orators term "Bryanism." On the contrary that newspaper believes "Bryanism" is the essence of democracy. It says: "The claim that the democratic party was never more truly democratic than it is under the leadership of Mr. Bryan is gradually being admitted by informed students of our history. The truth is being recognized that the movement called 'Bryanism' is nothing but another of those tremendous ground-swells of democratic impulse and aspiration which periodically agitate the politics of this republic. It is being admitted that the legitimate successor of Jefferson and Jackson is William J. Bryan. The popular instinct has recognized this fact for some time, and it is of decided interest that historical scholars are beginning to admit the truth, and that their conclusions are being welcomed in the pages of the most conservative magazines of the day."

WHERE ROOSEVELT SAID IT.

The following extract from Mr. Theodore Roosevelt's article on "The Three Vice Presidential Candidates," in the Review of Reviews for September, 1896, page 295, settles the disputed question whether he ever said it, and makes his denial unwise:

"The men who object to what they style 'government by injunction' are, as regards the essential principles of government, in hearty sympathy with their remote skin-clad ancestors who lived in caves, fought one another with stone-headed axes and ate the mammoth and woolly rhinoceros. They are interesting as representing a geological survival, but they are dangerous whenever there is the least chance of their making the principles of this ages-buried past living factors in our present life. They are not in sympathy with men of good minds and sound civic morality."

WAS IT AN EMPTY BOAST?

[Washington Post, Ind.]

Why is it that the republican organs and orators will persist in disparaging their party's achievements? Why are they discrediting their national platform? Why, in contemptuous disregard of the grand anthem of prosperity with which that platform opens and its declaration that the "stability of our currency on a gold basis has been secured," are the organs and spellbinders predicting financial disaster and industrial ruin in case their party is defeated? Conceding that Mr. Bryan is a wild enthusiast on the coinage issue—that his devotion to 16 to 1 is incurable—it still remains a fact that "the stability of our currency on a gold basis has been secured;" that nothing but unfriendly legislation can shake it. Bryan's election would not even threaten such legislation. A democratic house would not be a free silver house. The senate would be a gold standard body. And any tampering with the currency would give the republicans an easy and overwhelming victory in congressional elections of 1902.

TROOPS FIGHT CARLISTS.

Three Remington rifles were captured. The band retreated in the direction of Moncada, pursued by cavalry and infantry.

MILLIONS WANTED

GENERAL WILSON REPORTS ON COAST DEFENSES.

PURPOSE BIG EXPENDITURE

CHIEF ENGINEER REPORTS

FIFTY PER CENT OF COAST DEFENSES COMPLETE.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The important subject of coast defense is the first considered in the annual report of J. M. Wilson, chief of engineers. Generally speaking he reports most gratifying progress in the execution of the various projects during the last fiscal year. Because the report included the fiscal year only, the subject of the destruction of the Galveston defenses by the September hurricane is left over for treatment in a subsequent report.

Some of the points of interest treated by General Wilson are as follows. The torpedo system has been under careful study by expert officers in the light of the experience gained during the Spanish-American war, but so far only minor changes have been proposed.

Up to the present the thirty localities have been selected for defense on the coast. No formal projects were added to the list during the past year but preliminary projects have been framed for the defense of the entrance to Chesapeake Bay, and the defense of several other localities is under consideration. Attention has been given to the subject of coast defenses for Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands, and in view of the importance of these island possessions General Wilson says active measures for their defense should be deferred no longer. A detailed project for the defense of the harbor of San Juan de Porto Rico, involves an estimated expenditure of $1,800,000. Preliminary projects for Pearl harbor and Honolulu are also already available and ready for execution as soon as congress shall appropriate the funds. The great changes in the character of guns and armor and ships since the Endicott board framed the coast defense plans now under execution have involved corresponding changes in these plans. The tendency toward reduction in the caliber of guns together with the adoption of a successful type of disappearing gun carriage for twelve-inch guns has rendered unnecessary the armor for forts originally planned, and now in use in Europe There has been a reduction also in the number of mortars and a considerable strengthening of the batteries of secondary guns owing to the development of the rapid-fire type, almost unknown at the time the Endicott board made its plans These changes have resulted in marked economies, without sacrifice of the strength of the defenses, and they will be continued

The war with Spain had the effect of hastening the work began in earnest, the chief of engineers is able to report that 50 per cent of the defense work is complete Twenty-five of the principal harbors of the United States now have a sufficient number of heavy guns and mortars in place to offer an effective defense against naval attack. Existing projects contemplate the mounting of about 480 guns for seacoast defense, of 850 rapid fire guns and about 900 mortars, at an approximate total cost of $50,000,000 Up to the present time provision has been made for the emplacement of 309 heavy guns, 368 rapid-fire guns and 372 mortars. The armament placed during the war in temporary works will be held in reserve for an emergency.

Attention is invited to the urgent need for an increase of the artillery arm of the service, which is now too small to take care of the costly and complex defense works.

During the past year negotiations have been in progress for the acquisition of fortification sites in Boston harbor (two sites), Narragansett bay (two sites), New York harbor (extension of Fort Wadsworth), Port Royal, S. C., San Francisco and Rich passage, Puget sound, but the proceedings are slow owing to legal difficulties. The most important sites are those at Boston and one in New York harbor rendered necessary by the construction of the proposed deep-water entrance.

The report gives a concise statement of the work accomplished at each defensive point during the past year.

The total of the estimates submitted on account of fortifications for the next year is $5,715,009, and of this amount $4,710,000 is on account of the construction of gun and mortar batteries and position finders.

General Wilson makes an earnest plea for the reinforcement of the engineer corps, which has been overtaxed by the additional work required on account of the addition of new territory.

The second section of the report treats of the river and harbor improvements of the country, for which estimates for the fiscal year ending 1902, aggregating $20,000,000, are submitted, to which are added $200,000 for surveys and contingencies, $3,890,000 for the Mississippi river commission, $1,040,000 under the Missouri river commission, $15,000 under the California debris commission, and $72,800 to prevent deposits in New York harbor. The expenditures for the year ending 1900 were $18,435,298, which does not include $125,000 paid the Eads estate for maintaining the jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi and $61,000 for surveys and examinations for a canal from the great lakes to the Atlantic. The report is a review of all the work done during the fiscal year and refers especially to a number of important subjects, including the Chicago drainage canal, Pearl harbor, Hawaii, and the proposed memorial bridge connecting Washington and Arlington. Of the Chicago drainage project the report says that all the interests affected cannot be satisfied and the subject must be referred to congress for ultimate settlement. As to the lowering of the water level of the lakes, General Wilson says that investigations made under the direction of the deep waterway commission and by others may furnish data upon which further consideration of the question may be based.

The estimates under the Mississippi river commission are $3,890,000, and include the following:

Harbor at New Orleans, $300,000; Red and Atachafalaya rivers, $50,000; Natchez harbor and Vidalia harbor, $150,000; Memphis harbor, $100,000; Missouri river commission, from Sioux City to the mouth of the Missouri, $1,000,000; Osage river, Maine, $25,000.

Under the head of miscellaneous one of the items is for the sum of $2,601,000 for the English system and $881,337 for the American system of filtration of the water supply of the national capital. Another item is $380,000 for improvements in the Yellowstone National park.

REPORTER ANSWERS PASTOR

SAYS NEWSPAPERS SHOULD PRINT ALL GOOD NEWS.

Their Duty, He Contends, is to Enable All Men to Know Themselves.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29.—George F. Grassie, a reporter on the staff of one of the Milwaukee daily newspapers, occupied the pulpit of Plymouth Congregational church. He discussed the ethical side of the newspaper business, or "The Philosophy of the Press."

Mr. Grassie's sermon was in reply to one delivered by the pastor of the church, Rev. Judson Titsworth, on "What a Preacher Thinks of a Newspaper."

The preacher thought the newspaper was influenced by too much commercial spirit and thought the time was soon coming when the editor would be guided by a more altruistic spirit, and then the influence of his paper, already great, would be greater.

Mr. Grassie started out by quoting several passages from the Bible, coupling them with the words "know thyself." In learning to know himself, man must learn to know everything which in any way influences himself, the speaker contended, and it was within the province of the newspaper to teach a man to know himself by printing the news and everything that was true news.

In brief, Mr. Grassie said:

"It is the duty of the newspaper to help the average citizen to know himself, to interest him in what is going on about him, to give him just enough goodness and just enough badness, just enough religion and just enough atheism, just enough spirituality and just enough pugilism to keep him interested, and to thus make him know himself, and, incidentally, to sell the paper."

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thayer are visiting in Larwill.

PROF. MAX MUELLER DEAD

ILLUSTRIOUS SCIENTIST IS DONE WITH LIFE.

Great German Scholar of Oxford, Famous as a Philologist, Passes Away at a Ripe Age.

London, Oct. 29.—Friedrich Max Muller, corpus professor of comparative philology at Oxford university, is dead. He succumbed to an illness which manifested itself first last December.

He died Sunday at 12:35 p. m. His disease was an affection of the liver.

Until ten days ago he was able to continue writing his autobiography, dictating to his son. He was perfectly conscious until Sunday morning.

Frequently during his illness dispatches of inquiry were received from Emperor William.

No man in the scientific world was better known probably than Prof. Max Muller, the famous German critic, historian and philosopher. In spite of his German name Max Muller lived so long in England that one is apt to look upon him as an Englishman. Born at Dessau, Germany, in 1823, he was educated at Leipsic and Berlin. When only twenty-one he published a translation of Sanscrit fables. Following his return from Paris in 1845 he settled in Oxford, where he spent most of his life. The famous English university soon discovered the profound value of the great German and his work and in 1868 a new professorship of comparative philology was founded and Max Muller was placed in its chair as the first professor. In 1875 he resigned the professorship, intending to return to Germany, but the university induced him to remain and intrusted him with the congenial task of editing a series of translations of the "Sacred Books of the East." Upward of forty volumes of this series have been published and remain a lasting monument to Professor Muller's scholarship, research and industry. In 1878 he delivered at Westminster a course of lectures on "The Origin and Growth of Religion as Illustrated by the Religions of India." But probably his most popular works are "Essays on the Science of Language" and "Chips From a German Workshop." Professor Muller has also collated "The Rig-Veda" manuscripts, which appeared for the first time in 1849. His father was Wilhelm Muller, the poet. For many years Professor Muller has been known as the greatest linguist of the age.

KERN -- BEVERIDGE

TWO POLITICAL MEETINGS IN CITY TONIGHT.

KERN SPEAKS TO DEMOCRATS

SENATOR BEVERIDGE WILL BE AT THE RINK.

CLUB PARADE LAST SATURDAY

TWO HANNA SPEECHES THIS WEEK—STEVENSON.

Each of the two great parties will hold political meetings in Fort Wayne this evening. Hon. John W. Kern, democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, will speak at Saengerbund hall and Senator Beveridge will speak to republicans at Princess rink. The Hendricks, Jefferson and probably the ward clubs will meet on the market square at 7:30 o'clock and march to the Wayne hotel and act as escort for Mr. Kern. The Tippecanoes will meet at club headquarters and act as escort to Senator Beveridge. Charles McCulloch will preside and introduce Mr. Beveridge at the rink and Hon. S. E. Ellison will probably preside and introduce Mr. Kern at Saengerbund hall.

TO HEAR STEVENSON.

The democratic leaders are pushing arrangements for the Stevenson day demonstration next Friday evening. William Meyer has charge of the parades and he will announce his aides probably tomorrow. All of the local clubs will turn out in the evening and it is expected that there will be visitors from all over the Twelfth district. The farmers' parade will be in the afternoon. Hon. Joe Bailey, of Texas, will be here with Mr. Stevenson and it is expected that the demonstration will be the big democratic affair of the campaign in Fort Wayne.

THE LOVE FEAST.

The love feast of democratic clubs Saturday evening was a big success. The clubs assembled on Barr street at 7:30, and at 7:45 the line moved with William Meyer in command. He was assisted by Dr. W. W. Barnett and Allen Hamilton. The parade was led by the Hendricks club with the Olympia band furnishing the music. The feature of the parade was the big turnout of railway men, there being no less than 200 in line as the club marched down Calhoun street. There was the Jefferson Marching club, one of the finest uniformed clubs in Indiana, the Eighth Ward Marching club in their blouses, the Fifth and Sixth ward club and the Tenth ward club. The Ninth ward drum corp was also in the parade. When straightened out the line was eleven squares in length and there were between 600 and 700 persons marching and all of them were members of Fort Wayne clubs. The clubs disbanded at Saengerbund hall and about two-thirds of them listened to addresses by Hon. W. G. Colerick, S. B. Fleming and Judge Allen Zollars. H. C. Underwood, president of the Jefferson club, presided. When Judge Colerick arose to address the clubs he was greeted with great applause and several times during his twenty minutes talk the hall rang with cheers. Mr. Colerick called attention to the fact that all over the world nations were enjoying the same prosperity as the United States and he did not believe Mr. McKinley was responsible for it. But while the republicans were talking of prosperity to the nation they forgot to tell that the workingman had received no increase in wages and the farmer's net profit on his products was less than it was four years ago.

He asserted that those persons who were now supporting Mr. McKinley actively in this campaign had profited by special favors from the administration. Charles McCulloch, Mr. Colerick said, had in the Hamilton bank $100,000 of government money on which he did not pay a cent of interest, and could be loaned out at 6 per cent. Mr. J. F. W. Meyer, he said, was partner in a big drug house which furnished the medicine used by the government to care for the sick and dying soldiers in the Philippines. And in ending his comments on local advocates of Mr. McKinley Mr. Colerick said: "And there is Perry Randall. If he enjoys the same prosperity in the next four years that he has in the last, God pity him." The crowd cheered loudly at these statements about local supporters of Mr. McKinley. The battle of ballots this year, Mr. Colerick contended, would determine whether the United States was to remain free and be governed under the constitution or continue to be controlled by the syndicates which were always asking and receiving special favors.

S. B. Fleming said that he had just returned from a conference with Parks M. Martin, state chairman, who informed him that Indiana was certain to cast its vote for Bryan. The clubs, Mr. Fleming said, had done good work, and if they would continue their efforts for ten days more victory was certain.

Judge Allen Zollars spoke last and devoted a large part of his address to a discussion of the tariff.

MARK HANNA NIGHT.

The republicans are making every effort to hold the big political demonstration of the campaign next Wednesday evening, when Mark

ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE.

Hanna speaks here. The republican managers are trying to eclipse the democratic parade of Cockran night and invitations have been sent to the leaders in every township and surrounding cities to send all the republicans possible to Fort Wayne on that evening. Employes of the Fort Wayne shops and factories have been solicited to turn out and papers have been circulated among them with requests that they sign an agreement that they will be in the parade. There may be an industrial division in the parade also. Mr. Hanna is advertised to arrive here at 7:35, but an effort is being made to bring him here sooner. The parade will be under the command of J. H. Haberly and Senator Hanna will view it from the balcony of the New Aveline hotel. It will move east on Wayne street to Monroe, north to Berry, west to Rockhill, north to Main, and east to the Princess rink, where the national chairman will speak. He will be accompanied by Hon. Perry S. Heath, Harry C. New, Indiana member of the national committee, and others. It is probable there will be several meetings held simultaneously and Senator Hanna will speak at all of them.

ARRANGE FOR EXCURSIONISTS.

The local republican committee is arranging for a number of excursions to this city Wednesday evening when Senator Hanna is to deliver an address. There will be a special train over the Wabash from Peru, and it will bring 300 members of the Huntington republican clubs. Other special trains thus far assured are one on the Lake Erie from Muncie, one from Angola over the Lake Shore, and another from Lagrange over the Grand Rapids and Indiana. An effort is being made to have the Pittsburg bring in a special from the east on that evening, also.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

The Wabash railway will run a special train to Peru on the occasion of the big democratic barbecue next Thursday. The train will leave Fort Wayne at 11 a. m., the round trip fare having been fixed at $1.00. The Hendricks and Jefferson clubs will probably attend to the number of 200. The City band and Jefferson club drum corps will accompany the marching clubs.

Thursday evening will be "Bob Hanna Night" in Fort Wayne and the Princess rink will ring with the shouts of "Bob's" friends when he delivers his big speech of the campaign.

N. B. Travis, of Chicago, has been in the city several days doing personal work among the railroad men in the interest of McKinley. He represents the national committee, and this evening will go to Logansport on a similar mission.

ARRIVES AT 6:45.

The republican committee was advised by telegraph this afternoon that Senator Beveridge would reach Fort Wayne over the Wabash at 6:45 oclock this evening. He comes from Indianapolis.

MADE NINE SPECHES

R. B. Hanna, the republican nominee for congress, is at home from Steuben county, where on Saturday he broke his record for speech-making, having addressed the people at nine different points in that county. The trip was made in a carriage with Chairman Wickwire, and Mr. Hanna says his smallest crowd was 75 people.

WEDDING VOWS ARE TAKEN

WHILE GROOM IS BATTLING FOR HIS LIFE.

Harry Young and Miss Edith Schultz are Married at St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday.

Harry Young, prostrate upon his cot at St. Joseph's hospital, battling for his life against a fearful misfortune, and Miss Edith Schultz, standing at his bedside at noon Sunday, fulfilled the troth plighted months ago and took the vows which united them as husband and wife. Justice Harry F. Frances performed the marriage ceremony under unusual circumstances that lent more of tragedy than of joy to the scene.

The groom is the young man who lost both legs in falling beneath a Wabash train in this city Friday morning. The bride is a Huntington young lady and was betrothed to Young several months ago. He was returning from a call at her home when he met the terrible misfortune which has placed his life trembling in the balance. They have been lovers from childhood. Young came to Fort Wayne for employment and has been employed in the factory of the Withington company. They were to have been wedded this week, and the young man had already rented and furnished a cozy little home on Lillie street. When the terrible misfortune befel her lover Miss Schultz hurried to his side and at once declared if his life were spared she would marry Young, regardless of his unfortunate condition. This vow was fulfilled Sunday. Present at the ceremony were the parents of Mr. Young, his brothers and sisters and a number of friends of the bride. The patient is yet very weak, and the outcome of his accident is yet uncertain, though Dr. Porter stated this morning that he believed Young had a fighting chance for his life. The bride is stopping at the Rich hotel and is spending all the time permissible at her husband's bedside. Young was 21 years of age yesterday.

CHARLES REYNOLDS KILLED

A SUNDAY TRAGEDY ENACTED AT TIPTON.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 29.—The house of Madame Harmon, on West Jackson street, was the scene of a murder yesterday morning. Charles Reynolds, nineteen years of age, and four other young men visited the house, and after remaining there a short time started for home. They heard a stone strike the door of the house and stopped to await the outcome. The woman's husband, Samuel Harmon, appeared with a shotgun in his hands and fired at the boys, instantly killing Reynolds, several pellets passing through his heart. The news of the murder spread rapidly and threats of lynching the murderer were made, but the officers hurried Harmon to a cell in the county jail, where he will be well guarded. City Marshal Prince said that no mob violence was anticipated. Young Reynolds was a cousin of Marshal Prince's wife and was sober and industrious. Harmon has been charged with felonious homicide. He says he thought Reynolds and his companions were throwing stones at the house. The murderer is sixty-eight years old.

A SUNDAY TRAGEDY.

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 29.—Noblesville was shocked yesterday by a tragedy that may end the life of Edward Bradfield and seriously affect his wife.

Thomas Mills, a brother-in-law of Bradfield's, went to the latter's home early in the evening and called him out to the fence. When Bradfield appeared in the yard Mills entered the gate, and walking up to him, slashed him across the back of the neck with a huge knife. The blade of the knife had been sharpened especially for the purpose of slaying Bradfield.

The wound in the unfortunate man's neck is ten inches long and the knife touched within a sixteenth of an inch of the jugular vein.

After wielding the knife with such terrible effect Mills attempted to run away. Mrs. Bradfield, who heard her husband's cries for help, ran into the yard and attempted to hold his attempted slayer. Mills turned on her savagely and cut three long gashes in her arm. The loss of blood caused her to faint and her condition is serious. Bradfield is so badly wounded that his life is despaired of.

The cause of the assult cannot be ascertained. The men have not been friends for some time. Mills attempted to escape and did get away from the scene of the trouble, but was caught after a long chase and was incarcerated in the county jail upon the charge of murder. He will not discuss the affair.

HOUCK IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 29.—The assaulting and robbing of John Houck, an aged resident of Centerville, Saturday night, is still shrouded in mystery. Houck remains in a precarious condition, not having rallied from the severe blow struck him. John Jones, a local stock dealer, who was a former resident of Centerville, has been arrested in connection with the affair, but there is no charge against him. Houck was known to always have a large sum of money about him and it is thought his assailant secured from $400 to $700.

TWO HOUSES BLOWN UP.

Elwood, Ind., Oct. 29.—The homes of Fenton King and Mrs. Burns were wrecked yesterday morning by an explosion of dynamite, someone having placed a stick of the explosive near each house. The members of the families narrowly escaped death.

CLIMAX OF A FEUD.

Colfax, Ind., Oct. 29.—Charles Phillips was dangerously stabbed near the heart by Clint Harshman. Both are farmers, and the encounter grew out of a family feud of long standing.

FORGOT THE NAME.

Monon, Ind., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Francis Smith, who had come from a distance to visit a married daughter, was in a dilemma here the other day. After arriving she could not remember the name of her son-in-law. She knew he was a farmer and that his first name was "Jim," and that was all. She visited the stores to ascertain where a man by the name of Jim traded. She perused the assessor's books, but the cognomen eluded her, and then, when she was in despair, and had given up the search, the name came to her like a flash. Her son-in-law's name is James Easterman, to whose place she was taken the next morning.

SUMMER HOME FOR GIRLS.

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 29.—A wealthy Chicago woman, who will not consent to the use of her name, has purchased a tract of land on Gill lake, north of here, where she will erect a summer home for the working girls of Chicago. It will accommodate 100 guests and will be used for no other purpose than an outing resort for the overworked factory and shop girls of the western metropolis. It is purely philanthropic and has an abundance of financial backing.

OLD MAN'S FATAL FALL.

Winamac, Ind., Oct. 29.—John W. Bennett, an old citizen of Winamac, was found dead in his home. The last seen of him alive was on Tuesday night, when a neighbor observed him moving around in his bedroom with a light. As his wife was absent at Tipton, the neighbors became concerned, and last evening a ladder was procured and an entrance effected through an up-stairs window. Bennett's dead body lay at the foot of the stairs, with his head in a pool of blood and his feet upward on the stair steps. Dr. J. J. Thomas, coroner, was called, and an examination of the body disclosed the fact that his neck had been broken. He had fallen down stairs, and it is thought the accident occurred Tuesday night.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 29—London was influenced by our weak closing on Saturday and prices for American securities abroad were lower. In the local market the international stocks opened at large fractional declines, notably Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Atchison and Pennsylvania. Some of the specialties sagged sharply including Manhattan, sugar and Federal steel.

A sudden break of four points in Tennessee Coal was without explanation but its decline increased the pressure in other quarters and many prominent stocks yielded over a point. In the railroad division Lackawanna lost 1¾ and Wisconsin Central preferred 1½, while a number of prominent railroads fell a point. Business was on a large scale, but no definite news developed to account for the lack of support to the market. Towards 11 o'clock the market became unsettled. The Pacifics were inclined to harden while the granges, specialties and bituminous coal stocks sagged.

Northern, Southern and Missouri Pacific rallied from ⅜ to ⅞ causing slight recoveries in other railroad stocks, but meanwhile other stocks were moving downward, and their weakness eventually undermined the strength in the Pacifics. The selling pressure showed marked increase and prices fell lower than before. A number of the prominent specialties lost between 2 and 3 points. Bonds were active and irregular

AGAIN AT WORK.

The audience went wild, however, when Mr. Cockran said:

"I opposed Mr. Bryan in this very spot four years ago, when I believed him to be wrong; I thank God for the opportunity to support him here and now, when I believe he is right."

MRS. BRYAN SHARES HONORS.

Mr. Bryan arrived at 10 o'clock. After ten minutes of frantic shouts for Bryan the audience turned its back upon him and saluted Mrs. Bryan with a demonstration as enthusiastic as that which had been given to her husband. She looked very much pleased, but a little embarrassed by the tribute.

Mr. Bryan spoke clearly and was heard distinctly. He took up in turn the principles enumerated by the Kansas City platform, devoting more or less time to each. He gave out a text from Proverbs — "Remove not the ancient landmarks which thy fathers have set"—and argued that the democratic party had become the conservative party, seeking to sustain the time-honored principles of the government, while the republicans had become the revolutionary.

Binghampton, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Governor Roosevelt started his second week of state campaigning this morning, the special train leaving this place at 10 o'clock. The governor is in excellent health, having enjoyed the quiet of yesterday and the relief from speaking. His throat was in good condition today, considering that he has made six hundred speeches since he started through the country. He has not lost flesh in his travel of 19,200 miles, but, in fact, has gained. The trip for the day was arranged to include a fewer number of speeches than for any day of the state tour, only three stops being scheduled, one at Cortland, where it is arranged the train should stop for an hour; one at Ithaca, where three hours are to be spent, and the final stop of the night at Elmira.

When Governor Roosevelt finishes his trip on Saturday next he will have made 650 speeches and have traveled over twenty thousand miles, a record equal to the combined record of all other candidates for national office in the past fifty years, exclusive of Mr. Bryan.

LAUDS ADMINISTRATION.

Cortland, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Governor Roosevelt made his first stop of the day after leaving Binghampton at this place at 11 o'clock. There was a great gathering of people to meet him and in addressing them the governor took for his topic the administration of President McKinley, discussing it with more minuteness than heretofore. He alluded to the increase in the value of farm products, the increase in the number of people employed in manufacturing establishments, the betterment of conditions of labor generally, the effects of the maintenance of the gold standard and the upholding of the flag at home and abroad. He paid some attention to Bryan's statement that he would hurt the trusts by taking off the tariff and asked his auditors if they considered that admitting goods manufactured abroad by cheap labor would in any way inure to the betterment of those in this country engaged in the production of the articles now made more valuable by a protective tariff.

READ THIS COLUMN CAREFULLY

The device at the head of the Republican ticket is an eagle.
Other tickets on the ballot have different devices.
The Democratic ticket is in the first column, the Republican ticket is in the second column, and so on.

Below is a sample of the Democratic and Republican tickets, with the respective party devices, in the order in which they will appear on the official ballot.

SAMPLE BALLOT

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

DEM.	For Governor, JOHN W. KERN.	REP.	For Governor, WINFIELD T. DURBIN.
DEM.	For Lieutenant-Governor, JOHN C. LAWLER.	REP.	For Lieutenant-Governor, NEWTON W. GILBERT.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

FIRST. You must get your ballot and a blue pencil from the polling clerks in the election room. Remember that a blue pencil is now used instead of a stump.

SECOND. If you want to vote a straight ticket make a cross, thus X, within the large circle at the head of the ticket containing the device of the party for whose candidates you wish to vote. If you do not wish to vote a straight ticket, you must not make a cross in the large circle containing the device of your party, but you must make a cross, thus X, in the small square to the left of the name of each candidate for whom you desire to vote, on whatever list of candidates it may be. If the large circle at the head of the ticket is marked, and the ballot is marked at any other place, it is void and cannot be counted, unless there be no candidate for some office in the list printed under such marked device, in which case you may indicate your choice for such office by making a cross, thus X, on the square to the left of the name of any candidate for such office on any other list. The cross must be placed within or on the circle or square or the ballot is void and cannot be counted.

THIRD. Do not mutilate your ballot, or mark it either by scratching a name off or writing one on, or in any other way, except by marking in the circle or on the squares as before mentioned. Otherwise the ballot will not be counted. You must not put any mark of any kind on your ballot except as before mentioned.

FOURTH. After marking your ballots, and before leaving the booths, fold them separately so that the face of each cannot be seen, and so the initial letters of the names of the polling clerks on the back thereof can be seen. Then hand your ballots to the inspector, the pencil to the polling clerk, and leave the room.

FIFTH. If you are physically unable to mark your ballot, or cannot read English, so inform the polling clerks, and make an affidavit to that effect, and tell them how you wish to vote, and they will mark your ballot for you. But neither you nor the clerks must permit any other person to hear or see how your ballot is marked. It is a penal offense to declare that you cannot read English or cannot mark your ballot, if, in fact, you can; and in no case shall the ballots be marked by the poll clerks if the voter can read the English language or is physically able to mark his ballot, and then not until the voter has made the affidavit.

SIXTH. If you should accidentally, or by mistake, deface, mutilate or spoil your ballot, return it to the poll clerks and get a new ballot.

SEVENTH. You must not accept a ballot from any person outside of the election room. Any ballot outside is fraudulent, and it is a penitentiary offense to have such a ballot in your possession whether you attempt to vote it or not.

EIGHTH. You must not attempt to hold any conversation in the election room except with members of the election board and poll clerks.

NINTH. Use only the blue pencil handed to you by the polling clerk in marking your ballot. If you mark with any other pencil your ballot is void and will not be counted.

TENTH. You must not put any mark of any kind on your ballot except as before mentioned.

ELEVENTH. Constitutional amendments to be voted on at the November, 1900, election are printed on a white ticket and the voter must indicate his preference upon these questions by marking the small square to the left of the words "For the amendment," or "Against the amendment." If the voter is in favor of the amendment he should mark in the small square to the left of the words "For the amendment," if opposed, he should mark in the small square to the left of the words "Against the amendment."

FATHER KEEPS HIS DAUGHTER

Seibert Gable bitterly contested the attempt of the board of children's guardians to get legal custody of his little three-year-old daughter in the circuit court and Judge O'Rourke decided in his favor. The mother is dead and the child was in charge of the father, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, in the southern part of the city. The little child lived there with the father and some time ago the board of guardians took possession of the little one after filing an application for guardianship. The father claimed that the attempt to get possession of the child was made only that the board might give it to relatives of the dead mother who were desirous of adopting it. The relatives were in court and signified a willingness to adopt the little one, but the father fought for his child and as there was no evidence to show that he should not have it the judge decided that father and daughter should not be separated. A. H. Bitdinger appeared for the board of guardians and Wilmer Leonard represented Mr. Gable.

CONVICT BADLY INJURED.

A telegram from Jeffersonville states that Frank McGrady, a convict in the state reformatory, was probably fatally injured Saturday. He was at work in a shoe factory repairing some machinery when the machine was accidentally thrown into operation. McGrady was crushed about the shoulders and received a fracture of the skull. McGrady was sent to the reformatory from Fort Wayne for the theft of a pair of eyeglasses, after having been allowed his freedom under suspension of sentence for a previous offense.

WABASH ADDS NEW GANG TO ERECTING DEPARTMENT.

H. E. BENNETT THE FOREMAN

ENGINEER AND MRS. KELKER'S CHINA WEDDING.

WABASH BRAKEMAN KILLED

CLARK COLE CRUSHED BETWEEN ENGINE AND CAR.

General Foreman W. Paul, of the Wabash shops, put a new erecting gang at work this morning in that establishment. H. F. Bennett is the the foreman and he has under his charge eighteen machinists and helpers, the following being machinists who began work there this morning: E. J. Richards, E. C. Roberts, J. M. Allen and Oliver Roelle. Other members of the gang were taken from other gangs, some of the men being employed for a long while in the shops.

UNFORTUNATE CAR BUILDERS.

Saturday was an unlucky day for some of the car builders employed in the east car shops of the Pittsburg. E. W. Washburn and C. J. Krueger received injuries which will probably lay them up for several days. W. C. Muhlenbruck and F. Dobbenkan are disabled by sickness.

SHOPMEN HURT.

George Smith was struck on the left leg yesterday by an equalizer, which he was endeavoring to bend under one of the big steam hammers. He will be unable to work for several days at least. Henry Koopman, a boilermaker, dropped a heavy iron on his right foot, bruising the member badly, but luckily breaking none of the bones. Both men are employed in the Wabash shops.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.

Clark Cole lost his life at Roanoke Saturday afternoon. He was a Wabash brakeman and was caught between the corner of the engine tender and a car and his breast was crushed. Mr. Cole was a member of Conductor Woxson's crew, which was on train 72, eastbound. The conductor had instructions to pick up a car which was standing on a spur at that station. The engine left the train on the main track, backed into the passing siding and with a pole was about to push the car, which was upon a loading spur, out upon the tracks. Mr. Cole was handling the pole. One end of it slipped off the car and he was caught in the manner described and died instantly. The body was brought to this city and taken to Peltier's morgue, where it was prepared for burial and taken to Andrews, the late home of the deceased. Mr. Cole was an old employe on the road. For fourteen years he was a conductor, being reduced in rank last spring on account of an accident in which his train figured. The unfortunate man was about 45 years old, married and had two children. The widow and the children now reside in Andrews, which town was Mr. Cole's home all his life, except a brief period when he resided in this city. F. M. Cole, of Andrews, was the father of the deceased and Scott Cole, the Huntington postmaster, was a brother.

The funeral will take place at Andrews tomorrow and will be attended by a number of men from this city, including the crew of the train on which Mr. Cole was employed when he met with the accident which caused his death. The men composing the crew are Conductor Woxson, Brakemen Schroeder and Donahue, Engineer E. W. Burns, and Fireman T. A. Mulcahy.

FIGHTING FOR UNION PACIFIC.

That something radical and decisive soon will result from the long-drawn-out struggle between the so-called Gould and Vanderbilt interests to secure a sure and lasting control of the Union Pacific property, railroad officials and financiers are reasonably certain, says the Chicago Record. While the Vanderbilts at present direct the affairs of the Union Pacific, the Goulds are pushing them so vigorously and unrelentingly that the security of their control is not regarded as the essence of all that is strong and unwavering. The fight for the control of the western system is looked upon as the greatest struggle the railway arena ever has been the scene of, and the outcome of it is to have great effect upon one of two Chicago railroads, the Northwestern or the Illinois Central.

If the Vanderbilts maintain their present control the Union Pacific-Northwestern alliance will continue in effect, but if the Goulds come out on top the Northwestern will lose its present connection west of Omaha, and the Illinois Central will tie up with the Union Pacific in a traffic relationship. The directors of the Illinois Central are said to be considering the advisability of extending their line westward from Omaha to the Rocky mountains in case the Vanderbilts come out of the present fight as victors. That they desire a route to the Pacific coast is not questioned.

There is a difference of opinion among railroad officials as to where the sure and permanent control of the Union Pacific will eventually be found. Some officials do not believe that anything short of a miracle can wrest the control from the hands of the Vanderbilts, but there are others who are of the belief that the strategy and shrewdness of the descendants and followers of Jay Gould in time will triumph.

WANT RAMSEY TO STAY.

There is apprehension among the Wabash employes lest General Manager Joseph Ramsey is called to the Grand Trunk. If the new general manager of the latter road is appointed upon the recommendation of the retiring manager, C. M. Hays, it will probably be Mr. Ramsey. The Wabash has prospered under the management of Mr. Ramsey and he is a kind and considerate employer, hence the anxiety among the employes.

HONORED AN ENGINEER.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kelker entertained a number of friends at their pleasant home, 89 Baker street, Saturday evening, in celebration of the twentieth anniversary of their wedding day. The early part of the evening was devoted to congratulations from the guests, cards and dancing, followed at 12 o'clock by a most bounteous and delicious supper. Music for the occasion was furnished by Mr. Russ Winters and Mr. Rupert Leibman, and the applause each number received is evidence that their efforts in that way were appreciated by the guests. Each of the guests left with the host and hostess an appropriate memento, which will serve to recall to memory this, one of the most pleasant social events of the married life of Mr. and Mrs. Kelker. Among the donors and presents were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bowles, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Fry, of Kalamazoo, chamber set; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Calkins, Petoskey, jardiniere and pitcher; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Higgins, Grand Rapids, oat meal dishes; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ludden, Grand Rapids, crumb tray and brush; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hawkins, Logansport, celery dish; Mr. and Mrs. B. Pitman, Logansport, olive dish; Mr. and Mrs. L. Griffith, Detroit, Salad dish; Mrs. M. Robb, Ossian, comb tray and shaving mug; Mrs. M. R. Coffee, Decatur, salad dish; father and sisters, Mary and Julia, tea set; Mrs. Reiter and daughter, sugar bowl, creamer and vase; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McNearney, jr., cake dish; nieces, cake dish and celery dish; P. O'Neil, six fruit dishes; Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Kelker, pair of fancy pillows; Mr. and Mrs. A. Kelker, pair of fancy towels; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Kelker, jardiniere stand; Arthur, William, Edward and Orlo Kelker, rug; ladies' auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, beautiful china dinner set; Mr. and Mrs. H. Hogan, salad dish; Mr. and Mrs. Cummings, jardiniere; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherry, beautiful china dish; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kratsch, cake dish; Mr. and Mrs. C. Adams, cake dish; Mrs. C. Murphy and family, fancy plate, and Miss A. Eagan, jardiniere. Mr. Kelker is one of the most popular engineers on the Pittsburg road.

Pennsylvania Brakeman C. S. Bonter, who had been on the sick list, reported for duty this morning, after an absence of several days.

Mr. Redman, a boilermaker who recently resigned a position in the Wabash shop, began work in the Pittsburg shops this morning.

Supt. J. B. McKim, of the Pennsylvania, held a staff meeting in his office this morning. The heads of all the departments attended the meeting.

John F. Lewis, Nickel Plate brakeman, has gone to Virginia to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, who was killed in the Philippines a few weeks ago.

Master Mechanic G. S. McKee, of the Wabash, is suffering from a severe attack of quincy and will probably be unable to leave his home for several days.

Fireman H. P. Bittner, who was on the gravel pit engine at Warsaw several weeks, returned to the city Saturday with the intention of resuming his run on the road.

Operator A. A. Gilson, of Continental, Ohio, was called here yesterday to work in the Nickel Plate offices. Several of the regular operators are sick, including Messrs. Norton and Applegate.

Richard Taylor, of Lima, was called here temporarily to work at night in the east yard office of the Pittsburg. He is a telegrapher and a son of Dispatcher Samuel Taylor, of the Pittsburg.

Patrolman Will Bates, of the Pennsylvania police force, found and returned to the owner, Mrs. S. G. Audrus, of Chicago, a valuable metal belt, which was lost on a Pittsburg train Saturday.

The Nickel Plate, which has been advancing some enginemen, has now commenced examinations in the ranks of the brakemen with the same object in view. Eight of them were called up for examination today.

Owen Owens, who was at a fishing resort in Michigan, was taken sick and had to return home sooner than he expected. He is still unable to report for work, but is rapidly improving. Mr. Owens is a Pittsburg conductor.

Engine No. 153, Engineer Joe Leeper at the throttle, hauling west bound Pennsylvania passenger train No. 15, caught and killed a horse between Elida and Auglaize this morning. The animal strayed upon the tracks.

General Manager J. J. Wood, of the Fort Wayne Electric company, returned from New York this morning. He says everything is running smoothly with the electric company, but there is nothing especially new to tell today.

Charles Green, Bert Olds, William Driftmeyer and Jacob Hilgeman, construction men, and Cornell Morganthaler, salesman, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, have arrived home and will not go out again until after the election.

E. C. Keefe, Pittsburg boilermaker, is again having trouble with the hand he had injured in the shop a couple weeks ago. He reported for work last week, but this morning the member is so lame that he had to take a lay off for repairs.

G. W. Parry went this morning to Waukeegan, Ill., where he will superintend the erection of a big gas plant, for which the Western Gas Construction company has the contract. Mr. Parry will probably be at Waukeegan several weeks.

Mrs. D. L. Mason is lying seriously ill at the family home, 410 South Clinton street. It is feared that the malady may be typhoid fever, though it has not developed well formed typhoid symptoms yet. Mrs. Mason is the wife of the well known Pittsburg fireman

A. M. Tower, foreman of the air brake room at the Pittsburg shops, is again barred from his home by the quarantine laws. Two of his children have scarlet fever and another has a bad case of tonsilitis. Only two weeks ago another child recovered from scarlet fever.

H. C. Hambrock has decided that firing one of the big Pennsylvania freight engines is not the snap he thought it was when he applied for a position on the road a short time ago. He has, therefore, retired from the cab and hereafter will work in the freight house check room.

Claude Hall, a machinist employed in the Erie shops at Huntington, was in the city Saturday and Sunday. He is a brother-in-law of Harry I. Young, who had both legs cut off in the Wabash yards in this city Friday morning and came here to see that unfortunate young man.

Yesterday the Grand Rapids and Indiana company closed the most successful Rome City resort business in its history. The special train service was to be discontinued a month ago, but the people remonstrated and to please them the train was kept on, it making its last run yesterday.

The absentee lists at the Pittsburg shops are somewhat more lengthy today than they were for the preceding half dozen days. Some of the new names on the list are of those who are sick, but a majority of them are absent for unknown reasons, presumably on account of sickness. Among this number are Frank C Bardy, E. E. Sziuk, C. H. Heckman, F. C. Schultz, C. H. Grimm, Charles Yokey, Jacob Junk and C. H. Smith. Blacksmith Al Throckmorton is sick and W. E. Arrick, W. Bunck and E. Bunck are off by permission. It is rumored that the latter is to be married next Wednesday and that his absence from the shop is to prepare for that event.

Laborers engaged in making a tunnel for the Lake Shore road at Toledo struck Saturday for higher wages. Twenty-one of them quit work and three remained throughout the day. The men had to work in mud up to their knees and for this they were paid only $1.35 per day. They want $1.50.

William Kitselman and Frederick Deal, Nickel Plate conductors, have exchanged positions, the former taking a through freight and the latter a local freight run. Brakemen Imbody, Horton and Drake compose Conductor Deahl's crew, while Brakemen Ferrell and Sanders will be with Conductor Kitselman.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana, while it will run no more special trains to Rome City, has concluded to keep the $1.50 round trip fare in force until December 1. This is done at the request of numerous fishermen who will go to that resort during the coming month. Yesterday the company carried seventy-four fishermen to the resort.

George L. Louthain and Frank Kelly, switchmen employed on the Nickel Plate, missed the air brake instruction car when examinations were made in this city and they are in Chicago to receive instructions. The company requires a knowledge of the air brake from all of its employes who are in any manner connected with the active transportation department.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen very pleasantly entertained their friends at a lodge social Saturday night. The ladies are doing good work, not only in advancing the auxiliary, but in influencing men to join the brotherhood, which is now in a most flourishing condition. It had 128 members on its rolls and will soon increase the number to 150. Sunday morning the order took action upon a number of applicants.

At the request of the Commercial club, Superintendent M. L. Reynolds met that body Saturday to discuss a proposition for better train service on the Lake Shore road. The Commercial club suggested an early train out of this city and one returning from the north between 7 and 10 o'clock. Mr. Reynolds was of the opinion that the early morning train could be arranged for, but he was unable to state what the company could do in the way of granting the other request until he had consulted the general passenger agent, which he promised to do in a few days.

HOHENLOHE WAS IGNORED.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Prince Hohenlohe today made some interesting statements regarding his resignation of the chancellorship. Although expressing himself with great caution, he cited as the principal reason for resigning the fact that he had noticed for some time a growing desire to ignore him on important occasions. He admitted that his increasing deafness, especially in the left ear, had made it annoying for Emperor William to converse with him. While Prince Hohenlohe would not say what very recent occasion had particularly emphasized this inclination to ignore him, he asserted that this was the immediate cause of his going to Homburg with a written request to relinquish his official burdens. This, he said, he presented in person to Emperor William, who seemed astonished, but replied that, in view of the advanced age of the prince, he would not urge him to reconsider the resignation. It also appears that his parting with the kaiser was affectionate, and that both remain on good terms. When Prince Hohenlohe returns to Berlin for the winter he intends to frequent the court and its festivities, his physicians having urged him to this course, as they consider that the total absence of excitement would endanger his life. He is about to go to his ancestral home at Schillingsfuerst. Later he will go to Munich, and then to Meran, in the Austrian Tyrol, or to Italy, where he hopes to get relief from an annoying cough.

BOUTELLE A HOPELESS CASE.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 29.—Congressman Charles A. Boutelle, who has been an inmate of the McLean asylum for the insane at Waverly since last spring and who was recently re-elected by the people of his district in Maine despite his known condition, is regarded by the physicians at the institution as a hopeless case. His daughter, Miss Grace Boutelle, has taken apartments with a private family and when the weather permits takes him out for a drive. Boutelle's malady, which the physicians insist results from a clot of blood on the brain, does not yield to treatment. His moods vary. At times he appears and talks rationally for half an hour and then he will rave and storm about his rooms and swear the world is against him. When told his constituents had re-elected him the congressman did not understand at first, but finally he said: "Well, how kind of them." His nurses read the letters from his family and explain the meaning of much of their contents.

GARRETT BOYS HAD BIG TIME

CAME TO FORT WAYNE FOR TOUCH OF HIGH LIFE.

Mayor Scherer Interviewed Them in Police Court and "Touched" Their Pocketbooks.

A sextette of Garrett's rapid young bloods drove to Fort Wayne yesterday and three of them had a touch of high life in a fair sized city. The young fellows had a three-seated rig and after a little rest three of them went to the livery stable, secured the rig and with Nina Darling, Bessie Osborne and another young woman of the town started out to have a "time." They drove to Hiser's place northwest of the city and filled their hides with "booze." Finally, when the party started back to the city, Nina Darling was too drunk to navigate, and she was left lying alongside the road. Word was sent to the police department and sheriff's office and Sheriff Melching and Deputy Young went out and brought Nina into town. Later Detective Colling and Officer Bergman arrested William Kettler, William H. Divert and Charles A. Hart, the three Garrett bloods, and Bessie Osborne, the other woman having boarded a Wabash train and gone east. The horses had been driven almost to death and a charge of cruelty was placed against the Garrett trio, while the women were charged with prostitution. Mayor Scherer this morning heard the evidence and "touched" the pocketbooks of each of the quartet for $21. The young men went to jail, but later "raised the wind" and were released. Sheriff Melching asserts that he will file two affidavits against Hiser, one charging him with selling liquor on Sunday and another with selling to minors, one of the girls being under age.

POLICE NEWS.

Henry Albert and Frank Hart were arrested for shooting a rifle inside the city limits. Mayor Scherer assessed a fine of $1 and costs and then suspended sentence.

Sulsus Price (colored) was arrested for vagrancy by Officer Paul Sunday. The colored man was about the St. Paul's Lutheran church Sunday afternoon begging and some people were frightened. The mayor fined him $25 and costs, in default of payment of which Price went to jail for thirty-six days.

Charles Redmon was arrested by Pennsylvania Detective Redmon, who made a charge against him of climbing on a moving train. A fine of $1 and costs was assessed.

The police officers are searching for an inmate of the feeble minded home who is wandering about the country some place. The man is 26 years old and is shackled. He is considered dangerous.

Superintendent Gorsline will issue orders that the law prohibiting the burning of leaves on the streets be enforced.

Officer Heller has returned to duty, after being off a week on account of the death of his child.

Officer Collins was taken ill on his beat Sunday evening and was taken home in the patrol wagon. Friends hope that he will soon be able to again resume his beat.

A BOLD DASH FOR LIBERTY

COLORED PRISONERS TRY TO ESCAPE IN NEW YORK.

Murder a Jailor, Wound a Trusty, One Fugitive is Killed and One Gets Away.

New York, Oct. 29.—Two colored prisoners, in an attempt to escape from the prison attached to the Seventh district court, in West Fifty-fourth street, today killed Keeper Hugh McGovern, 51 years old, and probably fatally injured George Wilson, 59 years old, a "trusty," who had evidently tried to aid McGovern. One of the prisoners, Arthur Flanagan, escaped; the other, Frank Emerson, fell into the yard adjoining the prison and was instantly killed.

The prisoners were together in a cell on the first tier, on a level with the fourth floor of the prison. They sawed two bars in the lower part of the cell door and got into the corridor. They went to the nearest window about six feet fro mthe floor and sawed one bar at the bottom, shoving it out and getting through. In doing this it is supposed that they encountered McGovern and Wilson, killing one and wounding the other. How this was done is not known, as Wilson cannot give an account of what happened. The escaping prisoners used their bedding for a rope and swung from a window. Flanagan succeeded in swinging to the roof of a constable adjoining, but Emerson did not make it and fell headlong to a pile of rails, where his body was later found with the skull crushed in.

The men must have left their cell several hours before the fact was discovered. At 5 o'clock Keeper John Brady, who had been in the office all night, went, as is his custom, to the main prison on the fourth floor. As he was walking around the corridor of tier No. 1 he came across the body of Keeper McGovern. It lay face downward in a pool of blood with a great wound in the head. Nearby lay the prisoner, Wilson, who was still groaning. A surgeon who was called in said McGovern had been dead some time. He said Wilson would probably die. Wilson is 59 years old and for two years has been in the prison self-committed, as he had no home. He acted as a "trusty" and had the confidence of the officers. They believe he was hurt while aiding McGovern.

Emerson was under bail of $8,000 on two charges of burglary. Flanagan, who had been employed as a steward in a fashionable restaurant, also was under heavy bail for burglary.

It is the belief of the attaches of the prison that a woman is at the bottom of the whole trouble, and that it was she who furnished the file with which the prison bars were sawed through. It was said that a woman, whose name is not known, came to the prison Saturday evening to see the prisoner, Emerson, and it is thought that it was at that time she smuggled in the file. The same woman had prior to that time secured a lawyer for Emerson.

When the body of Keeper McGovern was searched it was found that his keys and revolver had been taken from him. It is the belief of his colleagues that the keys were taken from him with the intention on the part of the desperadoes to make their escape through the doors. Their design being thwarted, they returned and made their way out of the window by letting themselves down by means of the improvised rope.

Neither the keys nor the revolver were found in the pockets of the dead desperado, which leads to the belief that they are in the possession of Flanagan.

When Emerson was taken to the police station house the night of his arrest, October 13, he removed his shoes and then called Doorman Coghlin to the cell. The latter answered the call, and as he opened the cell door Emerson sprang at him and brought the heel of his shoe down upon his head, cutting it open. In the struggle which followed it took the combined efforts of several policemen to subdue the prisoner.
